Two Teen Highway Robbers Captured

... Hitchhiking Airmen Take $100, Car From Kimball Man

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Two teenagers, whom the Nebraska Safety Patrol said robbed a man and kept him captive during a 100-mile drive, later temporarily escaping a net of officers, were in jail here Sunday.

L. L. Hubka, Safety Patrol officer from North Platte, identified the two as Robert D. Wyatt, 17, and Jerry Benefield, 18. Air Force men stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo.

R. D. Van Patten of Kimball told the patrol he picked up two hitchhikers three miles east of Potter on U.S. 30 late Saturday afternoon. Van Patten said he drove to Chappell, where the two pulled a knife on him, and south of Chap-pell, he was robbed of $100. They then kept him captive during a 100-mile drive to south of Max-well, where Van Patten was ejected from the car.

The Kimball man notified the State Safety Patrol at North Platte a short time later, officers spotted Van Patten's car east of Overton and followed it to Elm Creek. Near Elm Creek an effort was made to apprehend the occupants.

The officers said the driver of the car pulled off the highway, drove along a ditch and finally into a corn field, where the two occupants jumped out and ran. Wyatt eventually was captured by pursuing officers, but Benefield escaped.

The officers made a night-long search of the area where the car was abandoned and Sunday found Benefield asleep in a motel at Elm Creek, Hubka said.

Hubka quoted the youths as saying they lost $90 of the money when they jumped out of the car in the cornfield. The money had not been recovered late Sunday.

No charges have been filed, pending further questioning. Officers said charges probably would be filed in Deuel County, where Van Patten picked up the hitchhikers.

Mob Strife Erupts At Nehru Talk

Police Fire On Bombay Rioters

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Language riots burst around Prime Minister Nehru and his Congress party Sunday for the second straight day. Nehru was unhurt but 25 party members were stoned and injured.

Police opened fire on the surging thousands and first official reports said they killed one rioter and wounded three others.

A communique later blamed the fatal shooting and two of the three wounding on a motorist firing in self-defense as the mob dragged him from his automobile.

The communique said 119 persons were arrested and 12 police and scores of demonstrators injured. Witnesses placed the number of injured at at least 100 in three hours of rioting.

Police used tear gas shells earlier to break up mobs trying to storm toward the beach where Nehru addressed a public meeting.

Nehru announced in his speech he was standing firm on his decision to exclude Bombay from the proposed Marathi-speaking state of Maharashtra.

Waited For End
The mobs of Indians speaking Marathi demanded inclusion in the proposed state. Battered by the tear gas, they waited at a distance until the meeting broke up.

Nehru's automobile was allowed to pass unmolested along the streets where the mobs shattered street lights and threw up barricades.

When cars carrying government officials appeared, however, the crowds opened up with a barrage of stones. Among those hurt were 25 members of the Congress Youth Corps. Most injuries were minor.

The public meeting was held at Chowpatty Sands, a seafont area. Demonstrators by the thousands converged on Chowpatty Sands where Nehru was addressing the public meeting after the end of a two-day session of a committee from the All-India Congress, Nehru's political party.

"Bombay is ours," the mob chanted as it swept aside the first line of police and home guards by sheer weight of numbers.

The authorities succeeded in halting the initial surge of agitators less than an eighth of a mile from the temporary speaking stand erected for Nehru.

Then after Nehru left police resorted to gunfire to break up a riot along Hughes Road.

SONYA HARDING

FIRST RODEO, FIRST TIME AS A QUEEN

"It was my first rodeo, first queen, first everything," Sonya Harding said Sunday. Sonya won the most points at the Nebraska High School Rodeo at Harrison, Neb., to win the "queen" contest.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Harding of 5700 Sunrise Rd.

Sonya claims that her horse, Monroe Red Dust, a registered quarterhorse, deserves a great deal of the credit for her 413-point score.

"I just got the horse in April," she said, "and he was grand champion gelding at the Kansas City American Royal and the Block and Bridle Show at the University."

Besides winning the rodeo title, Sonya also celebrated her 18th birthday over the week-end.

Sonya said she plans to compete in the Burwell Rodeo in August. She said she will not compete in the national high school rodeo at Reno, Nev., "because it is too far to take the horse."

Dallas Hunt of Lincoln was state rodeo queen last year and went on to win the national rodeo queen title. She was ineligible for queen competition this year.

Cloudy, Rainy And So Forth

More partly cloudy weather which may bring scattered thunder showers to Nebraska was forecast to last through Monday night.

Temperatures were to remain the same, with highs expected to hit in the 80s.

Precipitation reported Sunday was topped by .06 of an inch that fell at Norfolk and North Omaha, while North Platte measured .02 there and Omaha's Airport had .01. A trace was detected at the Lincoln Airport.

Temperatures generally peaked in the high 80s, with 88 at Scotts-bluff and Imperial taking honors for the day's high. Lincoln's high was 85.

State Rodeo Honors Go To Lincoln Girls

HARRISON, Neb. (AP)—Gary Trego of Sutherland and Dallas Hunt of Lincoln took top honors in the Nebraska state high school rodeo championships here.

Trego won the all-around cowboy competition, repeating his 1955 victory by taking first place in the calf roping, bulldogging and bull riding events and placing third in the bareback bronc riding.

Miss Hunt, the 1955 queen of the rodeo, was named all-around cowgirl with 80 points. She won the pole bending and barrel race events.

Sonya Harding, Lincoln, scored 413 points to win the "queen contest" at the rodeo. The girls were judged on a number of points.

Individual winners:
Boy bareback bronc: Monty Widener, Harrison, 323 points.
Girl bareback bronc: Sonya Harding, Lincoln, 323 points.

Calf roping: Trego, 144.8 seconds for two throws.
Saddle bronc riding: Matt Hayes, O'Neill, in a draw among three contestants.
Bulldogging: Trego, 33.9 seconds in two throws.

Bull riding: Trego, 204 points.
Calf pole bending: Dallas Hunt, Lincoln, 38.9 in two tries.
Barrel race: Miss Hunt, 36.8.
Breakaway calf roping: Mary Elliott, Harrison.

The traveling trophy given by the Crawford Rodeo Association, to the school with the highest point total went to Harrison.

About 1,500 watched the rodeo events at the Sioux County Fairgrounds.

First four placers in each event are eligible to compete in the national high school rodeo at Reno, Nev., Aug. 2-5.

Don't Be A 'Wrinkly'—HEY POP! YOUR KIDS HAVE TRUTH ON YOU

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The thoughts of the very young are often amazing. They love their fathers but sometimes for the most unusual, and startling, reasons.

This is shown by entries in the Milwaukee Sentinel's "My Pop's Tops" contest which ends on Father's Day.

"He is such a good pop I would forgive him for everything bad he has ever done and even for some of the things I expect he will do as his age advances."

"When my pop's home, the whole house is like smiling."

"My pop's tops not only on Father's Day but on the other 5,280 days of the year also."

Services Don't Like Cut In Weapon Aid

But $129 Million Slash Acceptable To 'Brass'—Vorys

BALK AT BILLION CUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) reported Sunday the Pentagon would go along with a 129-million-dollar cut in overseas arms aid but feels a proposed billion-dollar slash is "politically and militarily unacceptable."

Vorys, a leading administration supporter on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, disclosed Defense Department arguments against the committee's move to chop $1,109,000,000 from President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 military and economic aid program.

Defense officials believe the flat billion-dollar cut in arms aid voted by the committee would force a basic revamping of the nation's security program, Vorys said.

They also feel, he reported, that a committee-approved limit on U. S. military aid to Europe would "strike at the very foundations of the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) alliance."

No 'Serious Damage'
However, Vorys quoted defense spokesmen as saying 129 million dollars could be trimmed from the three billions sought for military aid "without serious damage to the national interest."

The foreign aid bill, setting spending ceilings for the fiscal year beginning July 1, comes up for House action Wednesday and Thursday. Appropriations for the aid program will be voted later in separate legislation.

U. S. Way Ahead
In a separate interview filmed for television broadcast in upstate New York, Foreign Aid Chief John B. Hollister told Rep. Ostertag (R-NY) that the United States far outstrips Russia in the help it is giving other countries.

Hollister, director of the International Cooperation Administration, said America is not trying to compete with the Soviets for the friendship of foreign nations by giving them money. And in actual practice, he said, there is no evidence yet that the Russians are giving anything away.

The foreign aid bill, after being cut by the House committee, still contains a billion dollars more than Congress voted for arms aid last year. Economic assistance at $1,800,000,000 would be about the same as last year.

Way Below Ike's Request
Still, the measure falls far short of Eisenhower's request. In the matter of arms aid to Europe, for instance, the House group approved a ceiling of 450 million dollars, compared with the 760 millions asked by the administration.

Vorys said the Pentagon study of these and other action concludes that:

1. The proposed billion-dollar slash in arms funds "will require a basic re-evaluation of the plans and policies on which the military assistance program is founded. Our security commitments and objectives would have to be changed. It is politically and militarily unacceptable."

2. The limitation on aid to Europe "strike, 'at the very foundations of the NATO alliance and is fraught with the possibility of extremely grave damage to the national security."

3. Recent changes in prices and requirements and some carryover from past funds could safely allow 129 million dollars to be sliced from next year's arms aid funds request.

Rollie Ley, Wayne Banker, Is Dead

OMAHA (AP)—Rollie Ley, 77, chairman of the board of the State National Bank of Wayne, died here Sunday shortly after returning to Nebraska from a vacation at Tucson, Ariz.

Ley had been associated with the bank, started by his father in 1892, for more than 50 years.

Survivors include his widow, Gertrude; son, Henry, vice president of the bank; and daughters, Mrs. Harold Hein, Wayne; Mrs. Allan Champe, Carmel, Calif.; Mrs. Richard Armstrong, Casper, Wyo.; Mrs. Milton Auker, Salinas, Calif.; and a brother, Leroy, Encinitas, Calif.

A motorcycle-car collision resulted in the death of James O. Yates, 26, of Arthur, who apparently lost control of his motorcycle and crossed the road into the path of a car.

Three-Car Wreck Injures Woman, 21

Phyllis Stevens, 21, of 4504 St. Paul suffered lacerations to her right knee and left shoulder in a three-car accident at 48th and A Sunday.

She was taken to Bryan Memorial hospital for treatment and was later released.

Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by William Stevens, 22, of 4504 St. Paul that was going south on 48th Street. The car collided with another vehicle going west on A driven by Joyce Brigham, 19, of 2785 Franklin.

The impact of the collision forced the cars into one stopped at a stop sign headed east on A driven by John Hoerner, 16, of 1747 So. 16th.

Police said Miss Brigham failed to stop at a stop sign and ticketed her for negligent driving.

SE Nebraska Drought Decided Near Disaster Level By Benson

CHICAGO (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson said Sunday the lack of substantial rain may cause some drought-stricken areas of Iowa and Nebraska to be declared disaster areas.

Benson, on a tour of Midwest farm areas, made the statement in an interview during a stopover prior to departing for a round of speeches before Wisconsin farm groups Monday.

The secretary said lack of rain in southwestern Iowa and southeastern Nebraska has left farmers "in bad shape." He toured the area last Friday and Saturday.

While the drought is bad at present, Benson said he felt confident a substantial rain would correct the situation.

"They're living on surface moisture from recent rains," he said. "That's what they planted on. They need good subsoil moisture ... and unless rain comes soon we may have to declare that district as a disaster area."

Farmers in declared "disaster areas" are eligible for relief funds.

Oat and hay crops are short, Benson said, leaving farmers

Weekend State Traffic Accidents Take 3 Lives

Three Nebraskans were killed in separate road accidents over the week-end, bringing the traffic fatality toll in Nebraska to 119, compared with 120 at this time a year ago.

Mrs. Teckla Woltalewicz, 47, of Grand Island, died in a Grand Island hospital Saturday night following a two-car crash at a street intersection there.

Earl C. Barr, 20, of Valley, died Sunday of injuries received when his car crashed into a hay chopper. A passenger in the car was injured slightly.

A motorcycle-car collision resulted in the death of James O. Yates, 26, of Arthur, who apparently lost control of his motorcycle and crossed the road into the path of a car.

Valley Youth Dies Of Crash Injuries

OMAHA (AP)—Earl C. Barr, 20, of Valley, died Sunday afternoon in an Omaha hospital of injuries suffered when his car crashed into a hay chopper on a narrow county road.

Young Barr suffered head injuries and a broken leg in the accident early Sunday. A passenger in the car, Jack Bratka, 20, also of Valley, suffered a bruised chin and left arm.

Sheriff's deputies Jerry Tomka and Pat Gillespie said Sammie Allen, 31, of Kings Lake, Valley, told them he had set out to cut hay. He was driving a tractor, pulling a hay chopper.

The deputies quoted Allen as saying the youth's car passed him

SOUNDS BIT FISHY, MAYBE

LONDON (AP)—Kenneth Hayes, who keeps goldfish, said Sunday they talk.

"When it comes to gossip," the aquarist declared, "women are not in it with fish. Fish talk all the time."

Hayes said he wired his aquarium with highly sensitive microphones and a superamplifier and discovered that goldfish conversation sounds to human ears like grunts and squeaks.

Services Don't Like Cut In Weapon Aid

But $129 Million Slash Acceptable To 'Brass'—Vorys BALK AT BILLION CUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) reported Sunday the Pentagon would go along with a 129-million-dollar cut in overseas arms aid but feels a proposed billion-dollar slash is "politically and militarily unacceptable."

Vorys, a leading administration supporter on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, disclosed Defense Department arguments against the committee's move to chop $1,109,000,000 from President Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 military and economic aid program.

Defense officials believe the flat billion-dollar cut in arms aid voted by the committee would force a basic revamping of the nation's security program, Vorys said. They also feel, he reported, that a committee-approved limit on U. S. military aid to Europe would "strike at the very foundations of the NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) alliance."

No 'Serious Damage' However, Vorys quoted defense spokesmen as saying 129 million dollars could be trimmed from the three billions sought for military aid "without serious damage to the national interest."

The foreign aid bill, setting spending ceilings for the fiscal year beginning July 1, comes up for House action Wednesday and Thursday. Appropriations for the aid program will be voted later in separate legislation.

U. S. Way Ahead In a separate interview filmed for television broadcast in upstate New York, Foreign Aid Chief John B. Hollister told Rep. Ostertag (R-NY) that the United States far outstrips Russia in the help it is giving other countries.

Hollister, director of the International Cooperation Administration, said America is not trying to compete with the Soviets for the friendship of foreign nations by giving them money. And in actual practice, he said, there is no evidence yet that the Russians are giving anything away.

The foreign aid bill, after being cut by the House committee, still contains a billion dollars more than Congress voted for arms aid last year. Economic assistance at $1,800,000,000 would be about the same as last year.

Way Below Ike's Request Still, the measure falls far short of Eisenhower's request. In the matter of arms aid to Europe, for instance, the House group approved a ceiling of 450 million dollars, compared with the 760 millions asked by the administration. Vorys said the Pentagon study of these and other action concludes that:

1. The proposed billion-dollar slash in arms funds "will require a basic re-evaluation of the plans and policies on which the military assistance program is founded. Our security commitments and objectives would have to be changed. It is politically and militarily unacceptable."

2. The limitation on aid to Europe "strike at the very foundations of the NATO alliance and is fraught with the possibility of extremely grave damage to the national security."

3. Recent changes in prices and requirements and some carryover from past funds could safely allow 129 million dollars to be sliced from next year's arms aid funds request.

Hopefuls 'Bet' On L.A. Vote

Adlai, Estes Eye Big City

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver gambled heavily Sunday on favorable big city ballots from Los Angeles in their climatic battle for California's 68 Democratic presidential nominating votes.

Winding up their northern California campaigns, the two presidential aspirants will hurry to Los Angeles Monday for final appeals for support there before Tuesday's crucial state balloting.

Both speaking in Oakland, Stevenson summed up his California drive as a "winning campaign" and Kefauver predicted he'll sweep the preferential test by 185,000 votes.

Kefauver again challenged Stevenson's support in the Florida primary by racial segregationists. Stevenson told his audience he had no intention of discussing the personal attacks and "distorted facts" directed at him by his opponent.

Los Angeles casts about 40 per cent of the California vote and both candidates have tailored their campaigns toward two issues popularly supposed to have greatest appeal there—civil rights and old age pensions.

Interesting Point

Involved in the test will be a demonstration of each candidate's popular appeal in a big city area—a point not likely to be overlooked by the party's national convention in choosing the nominee it believes can win in November.

Kefauver has put the big city vote issue into the campaign here with the suggestion that he, rather than Stevenson, is best fitted to attract support in the areas of concentrated population.

The Tennessee senator said that he regards it as an "essential ingredient" of a November Democratic victory for the party to carry New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco and "perhaps a dozen others whose votes are so often determining factors in the votes of entire states."

Lost To Ike

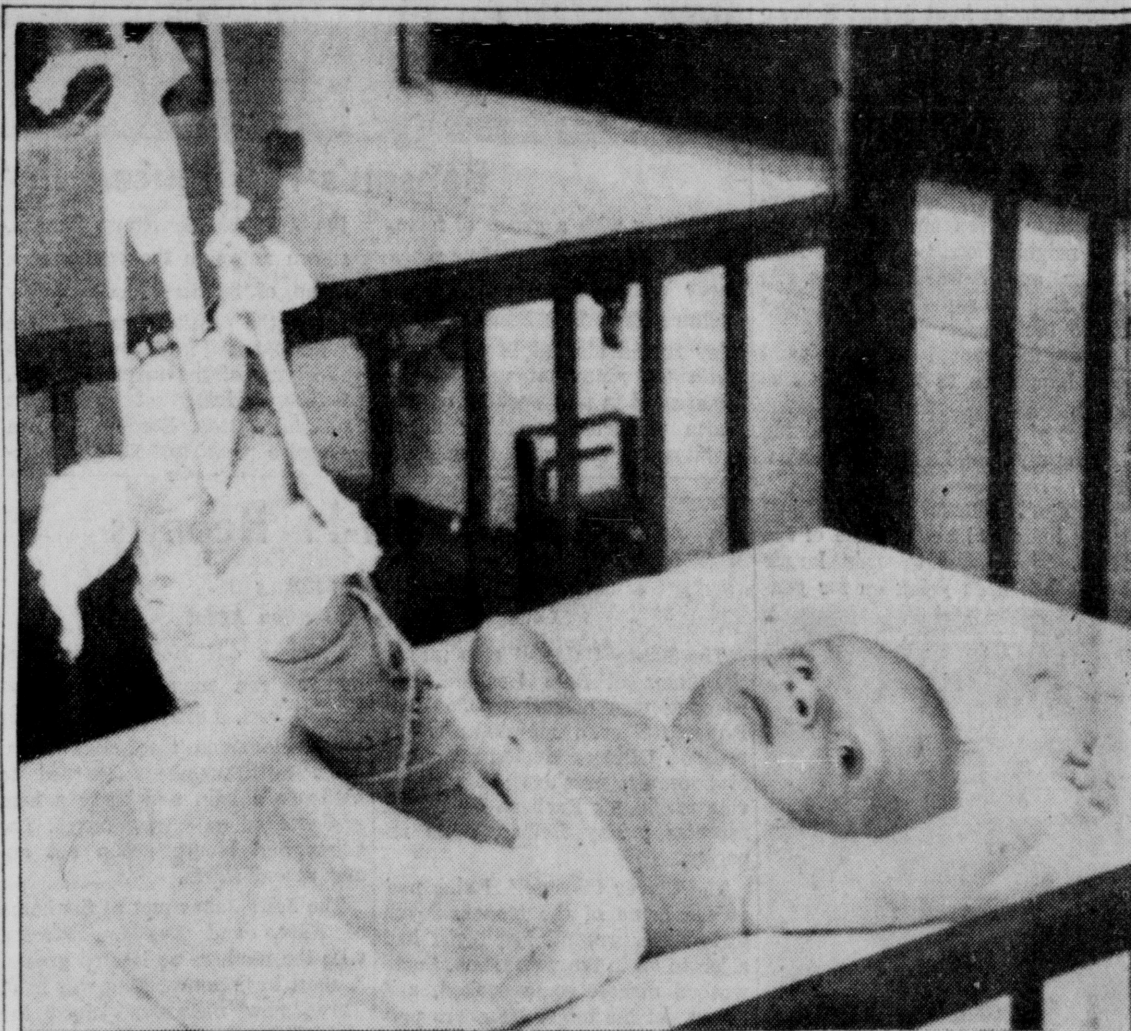

Stevenson said California by 700,000 votes in his 1952 race against President Eisenhower, with a substantial portion of that margin supplied by the Los Angeles area. Since then the Democrats have shown no appreciable recovery. They were able to win only four of 12 congressional seats in the Los Angeles area in 1954.

Democratic leaders are confident they will out-pol Republican in Tuesday's statewide balloting, where a 70-vote presidential nominating slate for President Eisenhower is unopposed.

For practical purposes, the Republicans have only congressional primary and local races to take them to the ballot boxes. GOP Sen. Thomas F. Kuchel has only token opposition for his party's nomination and is contesting for the Democratic nomination with Democratic State Sen. Richard Richards and former Rep. Samuel W. Yorty.

Candidates can file on both tickets in California but voters can't cross party lines in the primary.

Republican leaders said that under these circumstances any comparison between the total vote for Eisenhower's delegate slate and the combined total of votes cast for Stevenson and Kefauver would have little meaning.

Rollie Ley, Wayne Banker, Is Dead

OMAHA (AP)—Rollie Ley, 77, chairman of the board of the State National Bank of Wayne, died here Sunday shortly after returning to Nebraska from a vacation at Tucson, Ariz.

Ley had been associated with the bank, started by his father in 1892, for more than 50 years.

Three-Car Wreck Injures Woman, 21

Phyllis Stevens, 21, of 4504 St. Paul suffered lacerations to her right knee and left shoulder in a three-car accident at 48th and A Sunday.

She was taken to Bryan Memorial Hospital for treatment and was later released.

Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by William Stevens, 22, of 4504 St. Paul that was going south on 48th Street. The car collided with another vehicle going west on A driven by Joyce Brigham, 19, of 2785 Franklin.

The impact of the collision forced the cars into one stopped at a stop sign headed east on A driven by John Hoerner, 16, of 1747 So. 16th.

Police said Miss Brigham failed to stop at a stop sign and ticketed her for negligent driving.

Weekend State Traffic Accidents Take 3 Lives

Three Nebraskans were killed in separate road accidents over the week-end, bringing the traffic fatality toll in Nebraska to 119, compared with 120 at this time a year ago.

Mrs. Teckla Woitalewicz, 47, of Grand Island, died in a Grand Island hospital Saturday night following a two-car crash at a street intersection there.

Earl C. Barr, 20, of Valley, died Sunday of injuries received when his car crashed into a hay chopper. A passenger in the car was injured slightly.

A motorcycle-car collision resulted in the death of James O. Yates, 26, of Arthur, who apparently lost control of his motorcycle and crossed the road into the path of a car.

from behind, then turned around at an intersection, and approached him head-on at high speed. As Allen pulled the hay machine off a bridge, he said, the Barr auto smashed into the wagon.

Woman, 47, Killed At Grand Island

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Teckla Woitalewicz, 47, of Grand Island, was killed Saturday night in a two-car crash here.

Police said the car she was driving was in collision with an auto driven by Richard Godel, 25, also of Grand Island.

The mishap occurred at a street intersection.

Cyclist Is Victim North Of Arthur

ARTHUR, Neb. (AP)—James O. Yates, 26, of Arthur, was killed Sunday when his motorcycle was in collision with a car about five miles north of here on state Highway 61.

The State Safety Patrol said Yates apparently lost control of the motorcycle and it crossed the road into the path of a car driven by Ward F. Fosdick.

SOUNDS BIT FISHY, MAYBE

LONDON (AP)—Kenneth Hayes, who keeps goldfish, said Sunday they talk.

"When it comes to gossip," the aquarist declared, "women are not in it with fish. Fish talk all the time."

Hayes said he wired his aquarium with highly sensitive microphones and a superamplifier and discovered that goldfish conversation sounds to human ears like grunts and squeaks.

Two Teen Highway Robbers Captured

... Hitchhiking Airmen Take $100, Car From Kimball Man

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP)—Two teenagers, whom the Nebraska Safety Patrol said robbed a man and kept him captive during a 100-mile drive, later temporarily escaping a net of officers, were in jail here Sunday.

Lt. L. L. Hubka, Safety Patrol officer from North Platte, identified the two as Robert D. Wyatt, 17, and Jerry Benefield, 18. Air Force men stationed at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo.

R. D. Van Patten of Kimball told the patrol he picked up two hitchhikers three miles east of Potter on U.S. 30 late Saturday afternoon. Van Patten said he drove to Chappell, where the two pulled a knife on him, and south of Chappell, he was robbed of $100. They then kept him captive during a 100-mile drive to south of Maxwell, where Van Patten was ejected from the car.

The Kimball man notified the State Safety Patrol at North Platte. A short time later, officers spotted Van Patten's car east of Overton and followed it to Elm Creek. Near Elm Creek an effort was made to apprehend the occupants.

The officers said the driver of the car pulled off the highway, drove along a ditch and finally into a corn field, where the two occupants jumped out and ran. Wyatt eventually was captured by pursuing officers, but Benefield escaped.

The officers made a night-long search of the area where the car was abandoned and Sunday found Benefield asleep in a motel at Elm Creek, Hubka said.

Hubka quoted the youths as saying they lost $90 of the money when they jumped out of the car in the cornfield. The money had not been recovered late Sunday.

No charges have been filed, pending further questioning. Officers said charges probably would be filed in Deuel County, where Van Patten picked up the hitchhikers.

Mob Strife Erupts At Nehru Talk

Police Fire On Bombay Rioters

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Language riots burst around Prime Minister Nehru and his Congress party Sunday for the second straight day. Nehru was unhurt but 25 party members were stoned and injured.

Police opened fire on the surging thousands and first official reports said they killed one rioter and wounded three others.

A communique later blamed the fatal shooting and two of the three woundings on a motorist firing in self-defense as the mob dragged him from his automobile.

119 Jailed The communique said 119 persons were arrested and 12 police and scores of demonstrators injured. Witnesses placed the number of injured at at least 100 in three hours of rioting.

Police used tear gas shells earlier to break up mobs trying to storm toward the beach where Nehru addressed a public meeting.

Nehru announced in his speech he was standing firm on his decision to exclude Bombay from the proposed Marathi-speaking state of Maharashtra.

Waited For End The mobs of Indians speaking Marathi demanded inclusion in the proposed state. Battered by the tear gas, they waited at a distance until the meeting broke up.

Nehru's automobile was allowed to pass unmolested along the streets where the mobs shattered street lights and threw up barricades.

When cars carrying government officials appeared, however, the crowds opened up with a barrage of stones. Among those hurt were 25 members of the Congress Youth Corps. Most injuries were minor.

The public meeting was held at Chowpatty Sands, a seafont area. Demonstrators by the thousands converged on Chowpatty Sands where Nehru was addressing the public meeting after the end of a two-day session of a committee from the All-India Congress, Nehru's political party.

"Bombay is ours," the mob chanted as it swept aside the first line of police and home guards by sheer weight of numbers.

The authorities succeeded in halting the initial surge of agitators less than an eighth of a mile from the temporary speaking stand erected for Nehru.

Then after Nehru left police resorted to gunfire to break up a riot along Hughes Road.

FIRST RODEO, FIRST TIME AS A QUEEN

"It was my first rodeo, first queen, first everything," Sonya Harding said Sunday. Sonya won the most points at the Nebraska High School Rodeo at Harrison, Neb., to win the "queen" contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Harding of 5700 Sunrise Rd.

Sonya claims that her horse, Monroe Red Dust, a registered quarterhorse, deserves a great deal of the credit for her 413-point score.

"I just got the horse in April," she said, "and he was grand champion gelding at the Kansas City American Royal and the Block and Bridle Show at the University."

Besides winning the rodeo title, Sonya also celebrated her 18th birthday over the week-end.

Sonya said she plans to compete in the Burwell Rodeo in August. She said she will not compete in the national high school rodeo at Reno, Nev., "because it is too far to take the horse."

Dallas Hunt of Lincoln was state rodeo queen last year and went on to win the national rodeo queen title. She was ineligible for queen competition this year.

Cloudy, Rainy And So Forth

More partly cloudy weather which may bring scattered thundershowers to Nebraska was forecast to last through Monday night. Temperatures were to remain the same, with highs expected to hit in the 80s.

Precipitation reported Sunday was topped by .06 of an inch that fell at Norfolk and North Omaha, while North Platte measured .02 there and Omaha's Airport had .01. A trace was detected at the Lincoln Airport.

Temperatures generally peaked in the high 80s, with 88 at Scottsbluff and Imperial taking honors for the day's high. Lincoln's high was 85.

State Rodeo Honors Go To Lincoln Girls

HARRISON, Neb. (AP)—Gary Trego of Sutherland and Dallas Hunt of Lincoln took top honors in the Nebraska state high school rodeo championships here.

Trego won the all-around cowboy competition, repeating his 1955 victory by taking first place in the calf roping, bulldogging and bull riding events and placing third in the bareback bronc division.

Miss Hunt, the 1955 queen of the rodeo, was named all-around cowgirl with 80 points. She won the pole bending and barrel race events.

Sonya Harding, Lincoln, scored 413 points to win the "queen contest" at the rodeo. The girls were judged on a number of points.

Individual winners:

Boys bareback bronc: Monty Wider, Harrison, 325 points.

Calf roping: Trego, 44.8 seconds for two throws.

Saddle bronc riding: Matt Hynes, O'Neill, in a draw among three contestants.

Bulldogging: Trego, 33.9 seconds in two throws.

Bull riding: Trego, 294 points.

Girls pole bending: Dallas Hunt, Lincoln, 38.9 in two tries.

Barrel racing: Miss Hunt, 36.8.

Breakaway calf roping: Mary Elliott, Harrison.

The traveling trophy given by the Crawford Rodeo Association, to the school with the highest point total went to Harrison.

About 1,500 watched the rodeo events at the Sioux County Fairgrounds.

Don't Be A 'Wrinkly'—

HEY POP! YOUR KIDS HAVE TRUTH ON YOU

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The thoughts of the very young are often amazing. They love their fathers but sometimes for the most unusual, and startling, reasons.

This is shown by entries in the Milwaukee Sentinel's "My Pop's Tops" contest which ends on Father's Day.

"He is such a good pop I would forgive him for everything bad he has ever done and even for some of the things I expect he will do as his age advances."

"When my pop's home, the whole house is like smiling."

"My pop's tops not only on Father's Day but on the other 5,280 days of the year also."

"He is good to old folks, mama and animals. He's even good to me."

"He is a taveling salesman and he said he can't hardly wait until he gets home so he can be with us. Then when he comes home all he does is sleep."

"He never passed the seventh grade yet he is just as smart as if he was in the eighth."

"He is a king of wrinkly pop but if you was 42 years old you would be wrinkly too, but I don't know if a pop."

"I never heard him swear except once in a while when he is milking and a cows steps on his foot. Nobody else knows what nasty things that man can say over a stepped on foot."

"He tells us that he found us on a blueberry bush but we know that we were born, pop knows this too."

Benson Answers Farm Questions

Secretary Talks Shop During Visit

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

WALTON, Neb. — Following what seemed to be his often self-expressed goals of "let's talk about the farm problem" and "what can the Department do to help you fellows," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson completed his grass roots farm trip through three counties in southeast Nebraska Saturday and flew back to Washington.

To get the answers he wanted and to meet and talk with men and women on the farm, the Secretary spent Saturday visiting three farms and talking with farmers, their wives and "anybody in the neighborhood" in Otoe, Lancaster and Seward counties. At each stop the same questions were asked the Secretary.

Farmers wanted to know what was happening to the family size farm.

"Lot of people say we're ruining the family size farm," Benson said.

"I don't believe it. We're just going to revise the size of the farm. The trend towards larger farms has been going on for generations, and I don't think we can stop it. There's still going to be a family size farm, but its going to be larger."

Speaking to a group of farmers at the Gervase Francke place near Walton ten miles east of Lincoln, Benson defined a family size farm as one that "will produce a reasonable living for a farm family."

This is changing, he said, because of the increasing mechanization of farms.

Relating the problem of credit and the increasing size of farms, Benson said that credit organizations will have to raise their sights and think in terms of larger farms. This, he said, would help the young farmer get himself established on a farm that could support his family, whatever its size might be.

Time and again, in meeting with small groups of farm families, the Secretary said he aimed to work for removal of acreage controls, which he said he doesn't "see much sense in, since less than a third of the farmers here comply."

Benson reasoned that "you don't get anywhere" when allotments are placed on corn in one area and the land is put into some other crop, causing a new surplus. He said the new program—the newly adopted soil bank plan—would help.

A petition was presented to the Secretary in Nebraska City calling for a new farm program with graduated price supports on non-perishables based upon amounts produced.

Drawn up by Paul Antes, John Pickrell and Bill Davis, the plan offers a program which "will allow farmers as a group to obtain a fair share of the national income and for these returns to be distributed in such a way that the family farm will continue to be the predominant type of land tenure in the United States."

Reds Return Jap POW's

TOKYO (AP) — The Russian Red Cross notified Japan it will repatriate 31 Japanese prisoners of war and two children this week, the Japanese Red Cross announced.

Benson's Hat Placed In 'Ring'

Visiting with a group of farmers on the Vernon Niebur place near Walton, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson Saturday tossed his hat in the "ring" with the many others who are interested in and working on the farm problem, especially as it relates to the corn farmer in the Midwest. Secretary Benson, shown above in the center of a group of farmers, spoke freely about the difficulties of the "family size" farm and the complications of the farm program. Before arriving at his first scheduled stop, Benson made a surprise visit to Ellis Lies-

Lancaster 4-H Reports

By CYRIL BISH
Lancaster County Extension Agent

The Happy Gals 4-H club met at the home of Beth Graham. The meeting was opened by Jo Lynn Ballard. Eleven members were present. Officers elected are: Janet Sommer, president; Liz Ryan, vice president; Barbara Husbands, secretary; Kay Belber, news reporter.

The Clever Clovers 4-H club met at the home of the leader. Seven girls were present. Each girl had a job to do in the work shop. Some washed dishes, some cooked, and others set the table. Members prepared lemon custard and baked custard in our work shop. The Clever Clovers are planning a 4-H picnic. The refreshments served were things members had prepared earlier.

The Nimble Thimbles 4-H club meeting was held at the home of Kay Egger. The leaders are: Mrs. Lloyd Nannen, Mrs. Ted Munn, and Mrs. Jerry Sullivan. There are 22 members. Pat Munn called the meeting to order. The club planned demonstrations and songs for fair day.

The Firth Handy Maids held their regular meeting at the home of Judith Kolenbrander. Members decided to take the skirt and blouse project over again. The girls showed the silverware cases and vanilla drop cookies which they had made. Judith Kolenbrander led the group in singing and playing different games.

The Corralles 4-H club held their first meeting recently and elected officers as follows: Carol McCall, president; Sara Musselman, vice president; Diana Whitney, secretary; and Ann Musselman, news reporter.

The Holland Handy Workers met at the home of Carolyn Walvoord. A demonstration on correct shoes for school wear was given by Joyce Liesveld and Judy TeSelle. The girls displayed their nearly completed dresses.

The 4-H Pals met at the home of Mrs. Lundeen. Carolyn Crouse and Joann Kearns modeled their aprons. Margaret Barnes served sugar cookies which she had made. Members made plans to participate in the Share the Fun Festival.

The Rokeby Lassies held their meeting at the home of Twila Fiedler. The members brought their patterns for their project and samples of the material they are going to use. The leader, Mrs. Marjorie Loos, passed out record and year books. A demonstration was given by Shirley Hoy on how to pin a pattern on the material. Members decided on what kind of clothes they were going to wear for the song contest.

The Peppy Gals met at the home of Karen and Janice Lange. Marjorie Behring gave a demonstration on seam finishes and Judy Koonitz gave one on button holes for suits or coats.

The Emerald Junior Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Wiechert to organize. Nine members were present. Officers elected are: Jo Ann Lohmeier, President; Judy Hoffman, Vice President; Ramona Brakage, Secretary; Jean Lohmeier, News Reporter.

Panama 4-H Homemakers met and sixteen members responded to roll call. Let's Cook members made cinnamon toast and cocoa. Let's Sew members learned to measure a hem and baste a hem and worked on sewing boxes. The skirts and blouse group cut out and sewed skirts.

The Jolly Junes met at the home of Karen and Kathleen Pierson with the mothers as invited guests. A short business meeting was held. Three new members joined the club, Neva Langus, Vera Egger, and Charleen Fochlmen. Several songs were sung by the 4-H group. The Let's Cook group each brought a sample of the oatmeal cookies they baked. The sewing group modeled their skirts and blouses. Mrs. Harvey Finke, the leader, told us about 4-H and what it means.

The Waverly Workers met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Albert Munn. Mrs. Mildred Wittmuss helped organize the club. The projects will be Let's Cook and Let's Help Mother and Dad. Officers elected are: Carol Spader, president; Patsy Brown, vice president; Edna Munn, secretary; and Mary Greer, news reporter. Other members are Joyce Spader, Marilyn Munn, Mary Schmidt, and Janet Schlaphoff. Assistant leader is Mrs. Greer.

The Nimble Fingers club met at the home of Mrs. Betty Liesveld. An interesting demonstration was given by our leaders on how to make a divided box. Members of the Helping Mother and Dad project showed their painted trays and dust cans. The club members sang songs, played games, and had refreshments.

The Middle Creek Farmers held their meeting at the home of Roger Hatzenbuehlers. Members talked about swine parasites and their control. The group looked at Roger's pigs. The next meeting will be held at Robert Wiechert's place on June 12.

The Green Thumbs garden club met at the home of Larry and Karen Axthelm. Mr. Robert Roselle gave a talk on insects and showed slides. Mr. Cyril Bish and Allen Boettcher were guests.

The Rokeby 4-H club met at the Rokeby grade school. The dairy, soil, and tractor clubs met and plans were discussed for the Rokeby dairy show. After the meeting, Emery Nelson was present to show us an interesting conservation film.

North Platte Files Extradition Appeal In Drive-In Arson

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—An appeal for a circuit court denial of a writ of habeas corpus has been filed at Vermillion, S. D., by attorneys for George E. Hart, North Platte, who is opposing extradition to Keith County to face a first degree arson charge.

Hart is accused in connection with the fire that destroyed the Tastee Freez building in the north part of Ogallala last Sept. 26.

Circuit Judge C. C. Puckett, Yankton, denied the habeas corpus writ sought by Hart after he waived a hearing before South Dakota's Gov. Joe Foss.

The habeas corpus attacked the validity of the governor's action in granting extradition from South Dakota to Nebraska.

Hart was taken into custody May 6 at Vermillion, Sheriff Wayne Elliott said, while using the alias of Howard Payne.

Arson charges also were on file in Keith County against Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Elliott, North Platte, owners of the building at the time of the fire.

10 DROWN AS FLORIDA BOAT IS SWAMPED

UMATILLA, Fla. (AP)—Eleven Negroes—none of whom could swim—crowded into a dilapidated 12-foot boat for a joy ride on Lake Orr, the boat swamped, and 10 of them drowned.

Six of the dead were children. Bobbie Lee Shaw, 20, the survivor, said the boat, equipped with a small outboard motor, shipped water when Willie Foster, 41, the operator, turned it too sharply.

"Everybody got frantic and began to jump out," she said. "Somehow I managed to hang on to the boat."

MAJOR N.W. DIKES HOLD BACK FLOOD

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Main dikes were holding against the rising Columbia Sunday but danger of flooding in the lower river area was increased as a Pacific storm moved over the region.

One diked area was abandoned Sunday as flood waters poured through a hole which beavers had dug in a levee. Workers, who had been trying to plug the hole for the past week, gave up and water began filling the 1,600-acre game refuge and dairy farm area. The dozen families who lived in the Columbia drainage district already had been evacuated.

Robert J. McKeown, a Sauvie Island resident, said the beaver hole in the dike was discovered about a week ago and two of the beavers had been shot.

Other developments: There were these other developments along the flood-swollen Columbia Sunday:

City officials at Portland, where the Columbia has backed up the Willamette River to a level more than eight feet above flood stage, decided that the situation did not justify declaration of an emergency. They said the Rose Festival, an annual civic celebration, will be held this coming week as scheduled.

At Vancouver, Wash., the Columbia was 11.6 feet above flood stage and river forecaster Elmer Fisher said the four-tenths foot rise expected Tuesday might be the crest.

The Union Pacific railroad had to discontinue service over its line between Portland and Seattle as floodwater undermined tracks near Portland. Service will be continued on another line's tracks.

Pontiff Cautions Maids To Beware Dangers Of City

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII Sunday warned Rome's housemaids to beware of the wolves and bright lights of the big city.

The 80-year-old pontiff spoke for 15 minutes to thousands of maids and other domestic servants crowded into the Vatican's Benediction Hall for their annual audience. It was his first speech since fatigue weakened his voice five days ago and forced him to forego addressing crowds at his audiences.

The Pope recalled the economic and social progress which he said the maids and other domestics have made. He reminded them they had left their homes for employment, not to seek adventure, adding:

"The first encounter with the city fills you with amazement. You may not even imagine what shadows are hidden behind the brilliance of some lights; what mire is ready to dirty and engulf you while you stand astonished before the offer of certain flowers."

He urged the maids to follow their Christian training and to avoid "false prophets who place hate in your hearts" and "rapacious wolves disguised as lambs."

Scout Council Looks To Goal Of 10,000 Boys

Lincoln Star Special PERU, Neb. — About 100 men from the southeastern Nebraska counties that make up the Boy Scout Cornhusker Council Sunday planned a program for the next year which looks toward the goal of 10,000 Boy Scouts in the area by 1960.

The Scout officials, meeting at Peru State Teachers College, said they hoped by 1960 to reach 50 per cent of the population with the Scout program.

For the next year, the council adopted a budget of $79,773 and decided to employ an additional professional staff member, who will serve as assistant executive and whose chief responsibility will be with the finance program.

The council also decided to attempt raising a capital fund of $200,000 with which to complete the new camp at Humboldt and recondition Camp Minis Kuya at Lincoln. The Humboldt camp was named "Cornhusker Scout Reservation" and will be dedicated July 8.

Leo Hill of Lincoln, council president, presided.

OKLAHOMA—'Sneaky' Twisters Hit Every Home In Town

... But Nobody Hurt

MUSTANG, Okla. (AP)—Two "freak" tornadoes roared over this central Oklahoma hamlet Sunday, destroying property and crops but injuring no one. Damage estimates ranged from $50,000 to $200,000.

The tornadoes were produced in a line of thunderstorms which dropped more than four inches of rain on parts of southwest Oklahoma, causing minor flooding at Duncan in Stephens County.

The twisters rolled on the ground toward Mustang before jumping into the air about four miles southwest of here. After passing over the town, the funnels apparently retreated further into the sky as they raced toward Oklahoma City, eight miles away. Oklahoma City reported .51 of an inch of rain but no violent weather.

Every House Hit

Every residence in this town of 210 persons sustained damage. Barns were destroyed, small buildings were shattered and window glass was blown out. Porches were ripped from some houses.

Most of the unwarned residents were caught in their houses.

Early estimates set crop losses at 100 per cent in alfalfa, wheat and barley fields nearing harvest time, but later estimates were lower.

Terrific Hail

Much of the damage to crops and property was caused by hail following the tornadoes. Highway patrolman Ira Walkup said when he arrived, the hail shrouded the town like fog. He estimated total damage at $200,000.

The Red Cross, which sent investigators to the scene, estimated damage at $50,000.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Oklahoma City termed the twisters "freaks," describing conditions in the state as "not a severe weather type situation." No severe weather warning was issued.

Held For Bigamy, Engineer Sticks With Wife No. 2

FORT WORTH (AP)—Edward Voss, 30, an electronics engineer with one too many wives, stuck to wife No. 2 Sunday.

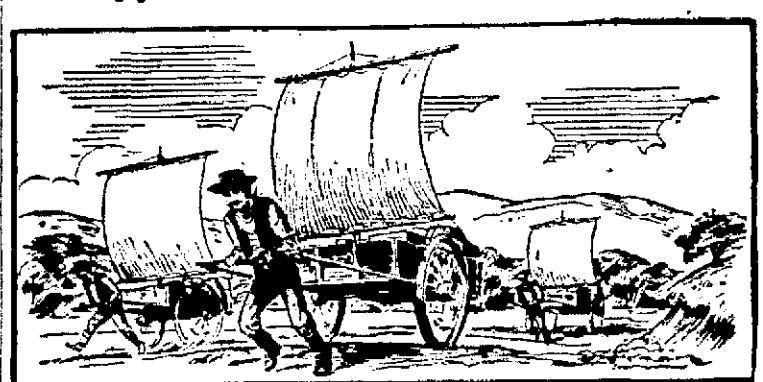

The red-haired engineer's double life was exposed after wife No. 1, Mrs. Sixta E. Voss, 35, whom he married in Panama in 1952, attempted suicide for the second time in two days.

Neither she nor wife No. 2, formerly Doris Compton, 32, whom he married Dec. 20 in Las Vegas, wanted to give him up.

Both were unsuspecting until No. 1 was tipped off Wednesday there was another woman.

Each wife was confident she would win him in the end. But Voss, declaring his love now belongs to wife No. 2, went with her to their Arlington trailer court home after he was released on $5,000 bond on a charge of bigamy.

Benson Answers Farm Questions

Secretary Talks Shop During Visit

By RICHARD WILLMAN
Star Staff Writer

WALTON, Neb. — Following what seemed to be his often self-expressed goals of "let's talk about the farm problem" and "what can the Department do to help you fellows," Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson completed his grass roots farm trip through three counties in southeast Nebraska Saturday and flew back to Washington.

To get the answers he wanted and to meet and talk with men and women on the farm, the Secretary spent Saturday visiting three farms and talking with farmers, their wives and "anybody in the neighborhood" in Otoe, Lancaster and Seward counties. At each stop the same questions were asked the Secretary.

Farmers wanted to know what was happening to the family size farm.

"Lot of people say we're ruining the family size farm," Benson said.

"I don't believe it. We're just going to reverse the size of the farm. The trend toward larger farms has been going on for generations, and I don't think we can stop it. There's still going to be a family size farm, but its going to be larger."

Speaking to a group of farmers at the Gervase Francke place near Walton ten miles east of Lincoln, Benson defined a family size farm as one that "will produce a reasonable living for a farm family."

This is changing, he said, because of the increasing mechanization of farms.

Relating the problem of credit and the increasing size of farms, Benson said that credit organizations will have to raise their sights and think in terms of larger farms. This, he said, would help the young farmer get himself established on a farm that could support his family, whatever its size might be.

Time and again, in meeting with small groups of farm families, the Secretary said he aimed to work for removal of acreage controls, which he said he doesn't "see much sense in, since less than a third of the farmers here comply."

Benson reasoned that "you don't get anyplace" when allotments are placed on corn in one area and the land is put into some other crop, causing a new surplus. He said the new program—the newly adopted soil bank plan—would help.

A petition was presented to the Secretary in Nebraska City calling for a new farm program with graduated price supports on non-perishables based upon amounts produced.

Drawn up by Paul Antes, John Pickrell and Bill Davis, the plan offers a program which "will allow farmers as a group to obtain a fair share of the national income and for these returns to be distributed in such a way that the family farm will continue to be the predominant type of land tenure in the United States."

Benson's Hat Placed In 'Ring'

Visiting with a group of farmers on the Vernon Niebur place near Walton, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson Saturday tossed his hat in the "ring" with the many others who are interested in and working on the farm problem, especially as it relates to the corn farmer in the midwest. Secretary Benson, shown above in the center of a group of farmers, spoke freely about the difficulties of the "family size" farm and the complications of the farm program. Before arriving at his first scheduled stop, Benson made a surprise visit to Ellis Liese-

Lancaster 4-H Reports

By CYRIL BISH

Lancaster County Extension Agent

The Happy Gals 4-H club met at the home of Beth Graham. The meeting was opened by Jo Lynn Ballard. Eleven members were present. Officers elected are: Janet Sommer, president; Liz Ryan, vice president; Barbara Husbands, secretary; Kay Belber, news reporter.

The Clever Clovers 4-H club met at the home of the leader. Seven girls were present. Each girl had a job to do in the work shop. Some washed dishes, some cooked, and others set the table. Members prepared lemon custard and baked custard in our work shop. The Clever Clovers are planning a 4-H picnic. The refreshments served were things members had prepared earlier.

The Nimble Thimbles 4-H club meeting was held at the home of Kay Egger. The leaders are: Mrs. Lloyd Nannen, Mrs. Ted Munn, and Mrs. Jerry Sullivan. There are 22 members. Pat Munn called the meeting to order. The club planned demonstrations and songs for fair day.

The Firth Handy Maids held their regular meeting at the home of Judith Kolenbrander. Members decided to take the skirt and blouse project over again. The girls showed the silverware cases and vanilla drop cookies which they had made. Judith Kolenbrander led the group in singing and playing different games.

The Corralettes 4-H club held their first meeting recently and elected officers as follows: Carol McCall, president; Sara Musselman, vice president; Diana Whitney, secretary; and Ann Musselman, news reporter.

The Holland Handy Workers met at the home of Carolyn Walvoord. A demonstration on correct shoes for school wear was given by Joyce Liesveld and Judy TeSelle. The girls displayed their nearly completed dresses.

The 4-H Pals met at the home of Mrs. Lundeen. Carolyn Crouse and Joann Kearns modeled their aprons. Margaret Barnes served sugar cookies which she had made. Members made plans to participate in the Share the Fun Festival.

The Rokeby Lassies held their meeting at the home of Twila Fiedler. The members brought their patterns for their project and samples of the material they are going to use. The leader, Mrs. Marjorie Loos, passed out record and year books. A demonstration was given by Shirley Hoy on how to pin a pattern on the material. Members decided on what kind of clothes they were going to wear for the song contest.

The Peppy Gals met at the home of Karen and Janice Lange. Marjorie Behring gave a demonstration on seam finishes and Judy Koontz gave one on button holes for suits or coats.

The Emerald Junior Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Wiechert to organize. Nine members were present. Officers elected are: Jo Ann Lohmeier, President; Judy Hoffman, Vice President; Ramona Brakage, Secretary; Jean Lohmeier, News Reporter.

Panama 4-H Homemakers met and sixteen members responded to roll call. Let's Cook members made cinnamon toast and cocoa. Let's Sew members learned to measure a hem and baste a hem and worked on sewing boxes. The skirts and blouse group cut out and sewed skirts.

The Jolly Janes met at the home of Karen and Kathleen Pierson with the mothers as invited guests. A short business meeting was held. Three new members joined the club, Neva Languis, Vera Egger, and Charlene Fochtman. Several songs were sung by the 4-H group. The Let's Cook group each brought a sample of the oatmeal cookies they baked. The sewing group modeled their skirts and blouses. Mrs. Harvey Finke, the leader, told us about 4-H and what it means.

The Waverly Workers met at the home of the leader, Mrs. Albert Munn. Mrs. Mildred Wittmuss helped organize the club. The projects will be Let's Cook and Let's Help Mother and Dad. Officers elected are: Carol Spader, president; Patsy Brown, vice president; Edna Munn, secretary; and Mary Greer, news reporter. Other members are Joyce Spader, Marilyn Munn, Mary Schmidt, and Janet Schlaphoff. Assistant leader is Mrs. Greer.

The Nimble Fingers club met at the home of Mrs. Betty Liesveld. An interesting demonstration was given by our leaders on how to make a divided box. Members of the Helping Mother and Dad project showed their painted trays and dust cans. The club members sang songs, played games, and had refreshments.

The Middle Creek Farmers held their meeting at the home of Roger Hatzenbuehler. Members talked about swine parasites and their control. The group looked at Roger's pigs. The next meeting will be held at Robert Wiechert's place on June 12.

The Green Thumbs garden club met at the home of Larry and Karen Axthelm. Mr. Robert Roselle gave a talk on insects and showed slides. Mr. Cyril Bish and Allen Boettcher were guests.

The Rokeby 4-H club met at the Rokeby grade school. The dairy, soil, and tractor clubs met and plans were discussed for the Rokeby dairy show. After the meeting, Emery Nelson was present to show us an interesting conservation film.

North Platte Files Extradition Appeal In Drive-In Arson

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—An appeal for a circuit court denial of a writ of habeas corpus has been filed at Vermillion, S. D., by attorneys for George E. Hart, North Platte, who is opposing extradition to Keith County to face a first degree arson charge.

Hart is accused in connection with the fire that destroyed the Tastee Freez building in the north part of Ogallala last Sept. 26. Circuit Judge C. C. Puckett, Yankton, denied the habeas corpus writ sought by Hart after he waived a hearing before South Dakota's Gov. Joe Foss.

The habeas corpus attacked the validity of the governor's action in granting extradition from South Dakota to Nebraska.

Hart was taken into custody May 6 at Vermillion. Sheriff Wayne Elliott said, while using the alias of Howard Payne.

Arson charges also were on file in Keith County Court against Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Elliott, North Platte, owners of the building at the time of the fire.

7,500 Attend Ft. Robinson Ceremony

CRAWFORD, Neb. (U) — An estimated 7,500 persons, 2,500 more than were expected, turned out Sunday afternoon for the dedication of historic Fort Robinson's new museum.

Gov. Victor Anderson, heading a list of dignitaries participating in the ceremonies, snipped the ribbon officially opening the museum at the old fort, a key post during the Indian wars.

"We want to be a bigger and better state," the governor said, "and Fort Robinson's facilities will show the way to it."

Anderson said he wanted to cooperate "in every way to aid in making the fort one of the better recreational facilities in the state of Nebraska."

Dr. James Olson, retiring director of the Nebraska Historical Society, said the museum at the fort was needed in the western part of Nebraska, where much of the state's history was made.

The museum depicts the history of the old cavalry post which played a prominent role in the settlement of the Nebraska-Wyoming-South Dakota area.

Dr. Olson, as master of ceremonies, introduced dignitaries and read telegrams from many invited guests unable to be present.

Marl Sandoz wires Nebraska Author Marl Sandoz telegraphed that the period from 1874 to 1879 offers one of the outstanding periods in the nation's history to students studying the Indians and the West.

Students, she declared, could find no finer place to study the West than at Fort Robinson.

Chief James H. Red Cloud, second cousin of the original Chief Red Cloud of the Sioux Indians, made the trip from Pine Ridge, S. D., for the dedication.

It was announced that the old Red Cloud agency would be made a part of the Fort Robinson facilities.

Also present was State Sen. Monroe Bixler, who was elected to the Unicameral the first time in 1952 on a campaign platform of "Save the old fort and use its facilities."

Ton Of Roasts
A free barbecue, sponsored by the Crawford Chamber of Commerce, preceded the dedication. It featured a ton of boned rolled beef roasts and 250 pounds of wieners, along with pork and beans, potato chips, buns and ice cream.

The museum is housed in the old post headquarters building. Display cases for the museum were made by prison labor in Lincoln and shipped here.

Robert Grange, 28, curator for the State Historical Society, was in charge of getting the museum ready for dedication.

Fort Robinson came into prominence as a remount station for the U. S. Army during the Indian campaigns and was active during World War I.

The fort was re-opened during World War II as a training site for the Army's famed K-9 Corps. In recent years it has served as a Department of Agriculture beef research center.

Six of the adobe cottages, which once housed officers and men of the cavalry, are being remodeled into duplex units for tourists.

Tourist quarters and recreation grounds are under the supervision of the State Game Commission.

Russia Without Molotov

If present Russian leadership spent endless, sleepless nights in endeavoring to dramatize the nation's New Look beyond Russia's borders, it could not have done better than by announcing the resignation of Molotov as the Russian foreign minister. No one associated with Russia better symbolizes the old tough Communist policy.

When most Americans think of Russia, they think of this strange man, so inseparably linked with an aggressor role, an ambassador who rarely smiled, outwardly a man as unpredictable and as unrepentant as Russia at its worst.

Molotov knew when to be mellow and when to adopt the opposite mood. Outside of Stalin, no Russian—not even Lenin or Trotsky—succeeded in impressing his personality on America. The manner in which Molotov forced his way unconsciously upon millions beyond the borders of his own country simply suggests that he will not have a successor within the ranks of the present crop of Russian leaders. They may continue to be all smiles and friendliness, or they may lapse back to the grim, forbidding character which Molotov gave Russia, but anything they do would be an imitation and a very poor one for Molotov. He is the Russian who brought great tragedy to the world. He could have exerted such an influence for good.

But good or bad, Russia will not be Russia without Molotov in the driver's seat speaking for it.

Benson's Visit

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has made his brief visit to Iowa and Nebraska, presumably possessed of the information he sought, namely facts about the drought and its consequences, and an on the spot picture of the agricultural area where the new soil bank experiment is to be staged.

The drought study is belated. The late summer of 1955 would have been a better time. The present spring and recent rains have hidden the grievous scars of last year's desolated crop season.

Nevertheless, his visit was a welcome one and good can come from it. There is ample evidence, even though the fields be green and the men who till them be as ever forward looking and strong, that there are continuing maladjustments in the price-cost problem that can be bettered by Washington action.

There is no place in present day America for lagging segments of the general economy, for the producer is also the purchaser, the one who keeps others producing and in economic health. The maintenance of balance in agriculture is an act of service to the nation as a whole, not to farmers in particular.

It is to be hoped the picture Secretary Benson saw and remembered was that of an industrious agriculturist, taking good care of its soil and working constructively at the trade, deserving of an equal deal in the national distribution of wealth, posing a serious problem to the nation if that is denied.

The Cost Of Growth

Taxpayers will probably never stop asking where the government spends all their money.

Annual reports for the past year now being completed by various departments of the city are a good example of the growth of Lincoln, its government and the resulting increase in demand for city services. In the matter of streets, for instance, enough new paving has been laid in Lincoln in the past five years to link Lincoln to Fairbury with a hard surfaced road.

Miles of paved streets within the city have increased from 240 at the end of 1950 to 302 at the end of 1955.

Other improvements have been made which are substantial enough to provide major municipal services for a community of several thousand persons. There were 249 miles of sanitary sewers at the end of 1950 as compared with 305 miles at the end of last year.

Storm sewers increased from 60 to 75 miles in the same five years and water mains went from 287 miles to 366 miles. During just the past three years, some 57 new residential subdivisions have been approved by the city for the platting of more than 2,000 lots as home sites.

Many of these things are only an indirect expense to the city as some of the improvements themselves are paid for by abutting property owners or in other ways. However, all such improvements mean more maintenance and more employees.

When new paving is laid, it must be swept clean by the street department. More subdivisions mean more homes and more homes mean additional people in the parks, on the streets and in many other phases of city service.

To meet this demand, the city payroll in the past five years has gone from $131,824.08 a month to $204,634.91. The number of employees has risen from 601 in May of 1951 to 716 during the same month of 1956. The average monthly salary, excluding directors and the mayor and City Council, has gone during the same period from $219 a month to $293.

With services rendered on the increase, types of services expanding and a growing payroll there is little direction for the tax levy to go but up. The reports of departments which show this growth of the city seldom receive the attention they actually deserve. The reports may be past history but they serve well to show that the city government has grown not just to perpetuate or nourish itself but rather, to meet the burdens of a constantly growing community.

Trip Is All Right

Most of the country will nod approval to the forthcoming visit of Gen. Nathan Twining to Russia.

Twining was singled out by the Russian officials as the American military man who will be welcomed at their air force show June 24.

Those who have opposed his acceptance tend to make too much of it. A nation's invitation to one general is not much more than just that. It was a gracious act, possibly indicating a readiness for more extensive exchanges later. It goes beyond the limits of imagination to believe that Gen. Twining will attend an air show and come home loaded with Russian military secrets and it is equally far-fetched to consider his visit loaded with obligations affecting all of our government.

There was something significant last summer in the exchange visits of agricultural delegations. There will be about the same significance in Twining's visit. Two things may come about. Any show of hospitality can lead to later demonstrations of good will. And Gen. Twining as a military man can come home to give one man's—a qualified man's—expression of Russia's general military situation. It may serve to help clear up some of our conflicting opinions which have been based on hearsay.

Belated Honor

St. John's College at Annapolis, Maryland, has listed the graduates it will honor this year at commencement. It included one Francis Scott Key. Yes, it was the same Key who wrote the Star Spangled Banner 160 years ago. Say what you will, St. John's College ought never to make the mistake of giving recognition ill-advisedly because of undue haste.

Twining Will Go To Russia Alone

WASHINGTON—There was more backstage huddling over the Kremlin's invitation to the Air Force to view the Soviet air show than usually happens in backstage-huddling Washington.

In the first place, the State Department was peeved when the invitation went direct to the Pentagon, not through the usual state department channels. Second, Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, suggested that the entire joint chiefs of staff be invited.

Other officials couldn't be quite sure whether this was because Radford wanted to go too, or whether he figured this was a good way to kill off the invitation to the Air Force.

At any rate, when this suggestion was put to the Kremlin by U.S. Ambassador Bohlen, he was informed that the Russian government would have invited all three joint chiefs if they had wanted them, but they didn't.

This reply resulted in another high-strategy conference in Washington in which the State Department favored rejecting the invitation altogether.

In the end, Eisenhower and Gen. Nate Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had a private talk at which Twining pointed out that his experts could pick up valuable information if they went to Moscow. So Ike agreed.

MCCARTHY'S REVENGE

The recent Republican slap-in-the-face of Senator Alex Wiley of Wisconsin has had both national and international repercussions. The GOP high command in Washington isn't happy about it.

Three factors worry GOP national leaders:

1. The revival of McCarthyism.
2. The growth of isolationism.
Wiley had steadfastly supported the Eisenhower foreign-aid program.

3. Traces of a hate-Eisenhower sentiment by GOP reactionaries.

Here are some of the backstage factors regarding this significant battle reported back to Washington from Wisconsin.

For seven years Joe McCarthy has been trying to get Wiley out of the Senate. He chafed at being called the "Junior Senator," first tried to get Wiley appointed ambassador to Norway, now is trying to defeat him.

McCarthy's allies have been Tom Coleman, the Taft leader who fought so bitterly against Ike at Chicago and who still is resentful over that defeat; Walter Harnischfeger, the once pro-Hitler industrialist who sold McCarthy on releasing Nazi prisoners convicted of the Malmédy massacre; William Grede, ex-president of the National Association of Manufacturers; and more recently the Texas gas-oil moguls.

Wiley fought against the oil-gas lobby during the Senate debate on the natural gas bill, while McCarthy voted for the bill. Probably he felt he had to, in view of all the money the oil moguls poured in to back him.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and William McChesney Martin, president of the Federal Reserve Board, are engaged in a battle over bank credit. Humphrey wants to ease bank loans in order to help the economy; Martin claims this is using the nation's credit for political purposes.

Congressmen Dawson of Chicago and John McCormack of Boston are planning a penetrating probe of the Treasury department, regarding big bankers' influence on U.S. treasury policy. They believe certain bankers actually fixed the interest rate on government bonds.

Whiskers No Sign Of True Manliness

Now comes a razor blade company with a lot of sassy advice on how a man ought to shave.

It might be all right for a fellow with 25,000 whiskers, which is the average. But I'm different. And I'm sensitive. I've been sensitive ever since the time I let my beard grow for three weeks and a barber said, "Say, you missed a little patch when you shaved this morning."

My phiz just isn't phertile. In view of this, you can understand my righteous resentment at being told that the only way to get a good shave is to wash my face in hot water and soap for two minutes, lather it for three minutes, hold the razor at about a 25-degree angle and mow with short, firm strokes, meanwhile using a wet razor.

If I washed and lathered for five minutes, I'd rub off so much growth that there wouldn't be anything left to use a razor on. A man doesn't like to be entirely bald-faced. It makes too good an adjective.

To be able to say that 25,000 is the average, they must have

NEW YORK—The love of Brooklyn, in baseball, knows no borders. Each day in the sports section of the little mimeographed newspaper that went to the H-bomb observers at the Eniwetok proving ground the word "Brooklyn" was always capitalized. A little bit of Flatbush and Ebbets Field flourished in a land where no trees but only radioactive mushrooms grow.

It's a pity the team didn't seem to care particularly. Yet I bet the kid who capitalizes "Brooklyn" in that forlorn Pacific waste gets every bit as homesick as—let's say—Duke Snider.

All U.S. golfers who grew furious at a nice guy named Jack Fleck for knocking off Ben Hogan in the national open last year have a chance to get even next Saturday—"National Golf Day."

About 200,000 good and bad, old and young, tall and short golfers will hack around their local courses, matching cards and their sometimes breath-taking handicaps against Fleck and national women's open champion Fay Crocker. Those who turn in lower scores than the champs get medals stamped "I Beat The Champion." These are said to lack certain value when the bearer later in life is confronted with a 10-foot downhill putt with a ten-cent Nassau at stake.

All good clean fun, however. In the four years of its existence the promotion stunt has raised $478,000 for such charities as U.S.O., the Red Cross, Babe, Dickschies, Zaharias Cancer Research Fund, Institute for the Crippled and Disabled, U.S.

Olympic Committee, Caddie Schellard Program, PGA Educational Fund, Turf, (grass), Research, AWVS, U.S. Blind Golfers Association and "Possibilities Unlimited," which concerns itself with amputee golf among other things.

Sign up. They'll give you a handicap that will make Fleck wish he was back playing a soft touch like, say, Hogan.

A card from Harry Mendel, who may have something to do with Floyd Patterson, washes up the immediate boxing future in one sentence:

"I'm here (Monticello, N. Y.) with the next heavyweight champion, Floyd Patterson, who will lick Hurricane Jackson in one; Moore in three next June and Rocky in five the following September."

Harry picked Sugar Ray Robinson to flatten Bobo Olson in four.

Overcoming his natural shyness long enough to take a bow, Branch Rickey, former boss of the now thoroughly surprising Pittsburgh Pirates, moves into the spotlight illuminating that team to confess that he knew it all along. Why he fled the scene last year in despair was not explained. Branch had his own way of saying, "Here I am again, like a combination Sir Harry Lauder and Adelaide Patti." Which suits me, for the game never pined more for characters. Branch put it, "The Pirates have entered an area of respectability. I believe they will continue to move in this area and may reasonably aspire to first division this year. In 1957."

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Starting Point On Sewer Program

At its last meeting, the Board of Sanitary District 1 again brought up one of the more important questions in connection with the $4 million sanitary sewer improvement program proposed by Black & Veatch of Kansas City, Mo.

The point was raised by George Knight when he spoke of the need for determining whether the city or district would carry out the sewer program. This is an important factor because obviously nothing will ever get done on the improvement until it is decided who will do it. The next thing the question brings up is who and how will the issue of responsibility be settled?

It seems to be an equal burden of both groups to make a determination in this matter. Someone from the city or district is going to have to initiate some action. The two groups will have to come to a meeting of minds and cannot do this unless something is done to bring them together in friendly discussion.

This is actually saying little more than to get something done, you must get started — to build a house, you must start laying a foundation. This may seem like such a self-evident or obvious point that it is the thing found lacking to date on the sewer program.

Both the city and district have agreed that sewer improvements are essential and that responsibility for this work must be fixed with one or the other subdivisions. They have failed, however, to take any steps toward accomplishing this end. A phone call, or at most a letter, could start the ball rolling but officials of both groups have apparently been satisfied to wait for the other party to make the first move.

With a total of $10,540,000 in proposed bond issues facing the voters at the June 26 special election, it might be argued that this is no time to start talking about a $4 million sewer program. Such is not the case. If that kind of talk scares voters at what might seem to be an inopportune time, then it will just have to scare them. Certainly the voters are entitled to know about and consider in their balloting all the needs of the community as they are presently known.

Also, the sewer program is not one that is going to be settled overnight. To say that there are many problems to be settled before construction could be started is putting it very mildly. It will take time to settle the issue of responsibility, to determine which part of the program will be started first and how it will be financed.

If financing is to be through revenue bonds, a system of charging for sewer service must be set up to provide the revenue to pay off the bonds. Any kind of bond issue would mean a vote of the people, which again takes more time.

Even after all those preliminaries are settled, there is the matter of drawing up plans and specifications, again a matter of considerable time. With the time that has already been wasted, it would be quite an accomplishment if anything in the way of final results could be achieved in the sewer program in time for the heavy demand period during the summer of 1957.

Certainly it is already well past the possibility of any sewer relief for this year. Overloaded sewers will continue in this summer's heat to boil over manholes onto the ground and through by-passes into Salt Creek. How much longer that situation must be tolerated will depend to a large degree upon the governing bodies of the city and district.

The suggestion of Mayor Clark

Jeary to change the order of business at City Council meetings to provide for public hearings only every other Monday points up one of the major drawbacks of this form of city government.

With the Council guiding all the affairs of the city, there is just not enough time to get beyond routine business. From one to two hours of every Council meeting is consumed with public hearings—applicants for various things, presenting their cases to the Council in hope of favorable action.

It doesn't seem, however, that the problem will be solved by the single change suggested by Jeary. While one Council meeting will be shortened by no public hearings, the next one will be lengthened by twice as many hearings. What will happen when the hearings run their meeting of the Council into the dinner hour? The Council will face the inconvenience of working through dinner or recessing for a later evening or next morning meeting.

There is also the matter of inconvenience to the public. While not generally of primary importance, a delay of one week in some cases could create some difficulties. Surely the Council will have to make some exceptions to its rule of hearings every other week. With such a rule, ordinances which came up for third reading on a Monday when no hearings were held would have to be laid over until the next meeting.

This will not only create inconvenience, but will further add to the work on the hearing days.

The new procedure may provide, as hoped by Jeary, more time for extra planning and study on other than routine matters. The present multitude of things constantly before the Council has left this particular field of work lacking, to a considerable degree. In the end, however, the extra time looked for will not be found with anything short of more sacrifice on the part of each member of the Council.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We wish to thank you for the excellent publicity which was given to the Rural Reading Conference, preceding and during the conference. We were especially pleased with the editorial "Books Are Persons" which appeared in The Lincoln Star on May 25.

LOUISE A. NIXON

The Medical Need

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Let's admit the truth. No one likes to spend money. No one likes to go to a hospital. No one likes to go to a doctor.

Yet each of us daily spends money, and with some frequency goes to the doctor and the hospital when the occasion demands. Why? Our own mature judgment and self-discipline tell us we have to do these things for our own welfare.

The hospital bond issue proposal is similar. We all know that when illness and emergency hit us, we want the best medical facilities possible and plenty of good doctors and related medical skills.

And we know that we are going to have to spend money in order to make these available to ourselves. And that, basically, it will require our own money, no matter how we do it.

We are going to have to support and vote for the hospital proposal not because we like it but because this community simply has to have adequate medical facilities for its citizens and its own self-interest.

Hospital Care

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Many of the patients we see in Lincoln hospitals could be paying less for medical care. For example, a patient with minor foot injuries had to be hospitalized until she was able to care for herself at home. No special treatment was required but just the same, this patient had to be charged the same room price as the acutely ill patient has to pay—that is, her room included all the special care and treatment of laboratory, X-ray, central supply, pharmacy, standby emergency equipment, surgery, obstetrics, etc., necessary in hospitals as we have them in Lincoln now.

This patient and many, many others, particularly those with long-term, minor, sub-acute illnesses, old age and convalescent patients, need continuous nursing care and medical supervision, but that must be available in a hospital geared to the treatment of all types of sick people.

The new medical center would make it possible for such acutely ill patients to receive the care they need at much less expense. This care will be provided for at either Lincoln General or Bryan Memorial Hospitals.

MARIE SADLICK, R.N.

Without Voice

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Jeary who said we could get along without a new City-County Building. The authority picked a block for the building without any voice of the people. Are we to have some appointed committee to tell the taxpayers just what they can and cannot have? Is that democracy? I think not. The present block where the Court House now stands has ample room for a new building, and the city or county shouldn't be compelled to furnish parking space for anyone. Homeowners vote "No" on the bond question.

BEN KECK

'Authorized' Basis

Hastings, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The day and hour the state board of control formulated the rule that medicine provided the aged had to be prescribed by a physician on an "authorized" basis, the costs of medicine for the old folks began to climb. The simple, inexpensive drugs they long had used were now denied them unless the older was willing to pay for them himself. If a cold was threatening, no longer could he buy a box of bromo-quinine for to combat it. He must go to a doctor and get his prescription. Then his bill would be paid by the state. Now it is the county doing the paying. Likewise all other simple drugs, such as aspirin, mentholatum, milk of magnesia, caroid bile salts, salves and ointments, are denied payment by the county or state, unless a doctor has prescribed them, and that means an office call at $3. Either go to the doctor, or pay for the drugs yourself, they say to the older folks. And there is no provision for the old mothers to get a hair-do. Nope, they can go around with their hair a torment to themselves, as well as unsightly to the public. Assistance won't even pay a barber to cut off their locks. There is no provision made for it in their budget. Now the whole question is whether state assistance was made for the old folk?

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

Upping The Speed

Geneva, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Few stop to compute the actual miles gained on a trip by upping speed ten miles per hour.

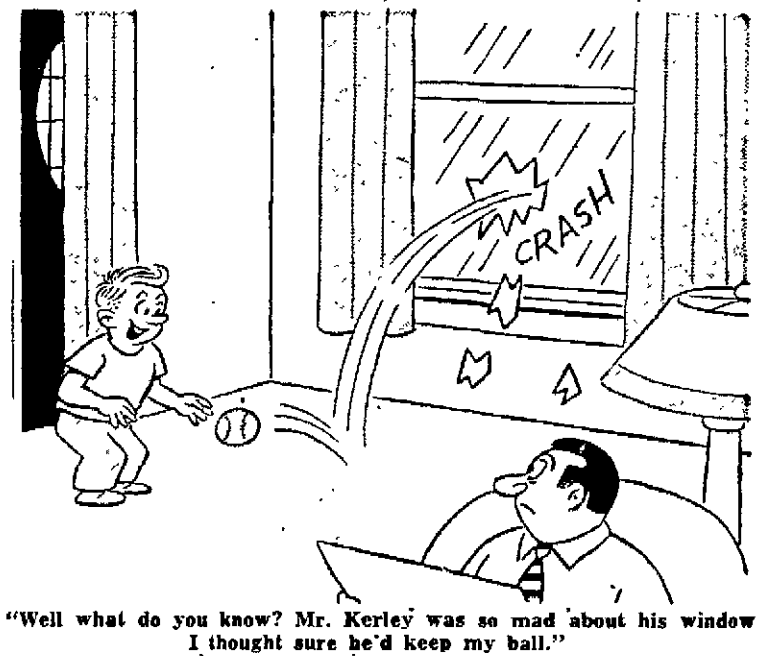

In another field, only one home in 1200 burns in a city the size of Lincoln and larger.

If I came along with a proposition of winning one in 1200 most folks would turn down the idea regardless of price. Be safe, be sure.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

The ol' swimmin' pool was an American institution shortly after the turn of the century. . . . It still revives nostalgic memories for a lot of men, now grown gray, who abandoned swimming years ago. . . . Nothing provides more of a reminder of the good old days than a reference to that same ol' swimmin' pool.

They were good old days for a generation or two of teen-age boys who never lacked for something to do. . . . Part of that something were chores. . . . enough chores to keep healthy, lively boys out of mischief. . . . Nebraska's record in 1955 was a bit on the disturbing side when it came to drownings. . . . There were 50 Nebraskans, ranging in age from a year to 70 years,

Plenty To Keep Busy

who lost their lives through drowning in that year. . . . This was nearly double the number in 1954, the State Health Department reported, and more than the drownings which took place in either of the two preceding years. . . . Only two of the 50 could be charged against the modern swimming pool, State Health Director E. A. Rogers reported. . . . But the number occurring in farm ponds, streams, lakes and particularly sandpits climbed sharply. . . . Twenty-two persons lost their lives while swimming in dangerous, unsupervised waters. . . . "There is no area in Nebraska," the State Health director concluded, "that is so far away from a good, supervised, clean, filtered artificial swimming pool that there is any real need for swimming in undesirable places."

The ol' swimmin' pool was not the only delight of boys who lived near rivers and lakes in the early part of this century. . . . There was skating, and fishing, although in Nebraska the latter left a lot to be desired. . . . Then the cave, built into the steep bank of a stream, with its fireplace providing the necessary warmth, was a haven for the boys of yesteryear. . . . Today there is supervised play and necessarily so. . . . But looking back, sometimes we are brought to the conclusion that youngsters had a great deal more fun then than they do now, and with a lot less effort.

The press dispatches telling of the death of Jesse Jones, who as head of the RFC loaned $50 billions for Uncle Sam, made mention of the fact that Jones built 35 skyscrapers in his beloved home community of Houston, ranging from a few stories to as many as 37.

His holdings covered a vast range. His driving energy could have spelled the difference between Dallas and Houston. . . . In the closing years of his life, Jesse Jones lived to see Houston pass the million mark in population, the largest city in the largest and, with the exception of California, the most rapidly growing state in the Union. . . . Frequently a storm center in Democratic politics, Jones played a prominent role in the administrations of the late Woodrow Wilson, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman. . . . He was a man of great ability, a typical conservative Southern Democrat who finally deserted Washington for his beloved Texas.

Jones was the type of citizen essential to America in the broadest outlines of this nation's traditions. . . . Equally so was another well-known American whose death occurred near the week-end, Actor Jean Hersholt. . . . Jones could play in terms of fabulous developments. . . . Hersholt earned an indelible place in the hearts of millions of Americans as a warm-hearted humanitarian. . . . If you want to understand the American people, remember they will return to Hersholt in their thoughts long after they have forgotten Jones.

Russia Without Molotov

If present Russian leadership spent endless, sleepless nights in endeavoring to dramatize the nation's New Look beyond Russia's borders, it could not have done better than by announcing the resignation of Molotov as the Russian foreign minister. No one associated with Russia better symbolizes the old tough Communist policy.

When most Americans think of Russia, they think of this strange man, so inseparably linked with an aggressor role, an ambassador who rarely smiled, outwardly a man as unpredictable and as undependable as Russia at its worst.

Molotov knew when to be mellow and when to adopt the opposite mood. Outside of Stalin, no Russian—not even Lenin or Trotsky—succeeded in impressing his personality on America. The manner in which Molotov forced his way unconsciously upon millions beyond the borders of his own country simply suggests that he will not have a successor within the ranks of the present crop of Russian leaders. They may continue to be all smiles and friendliness, or they may lapse back to the grim, forbidding character which Molotov gave Russia, but anything they do would be an imitation and a very poor one for Molotov. He is the Russian who brought great tragedy to the world. He could have exerted such an influence for good.

But good or bad, Russia will not be Russia without Molotov in the driver's seat speaking for it.

Benson's Visit

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has made his brief visit to Iowa and Nebraska, presumably possessed of the information he sought, namely facts about the drought and its consequences, and an on the spot picture of the agricultural area where the new soil bank experiment is to be staged.

The drought study is belated. The late summer of 1955 would have been a better time. The present spring and recent rains have hidden the grievous scars of last year's desolated crop season.

Nevertheless, his visit was a welcome one and good can come from it. There is ample evidence, even though the fields be green and the men who till them be as ever forward looking and strong, that there are continuing maladjustments in the price-cost problem that can be bettered by Washington action.

There is no place in present day America for lagging segments of the general economy, for the producer is also the purchaser, the one who keeps others producing and in economic health. The maintenance of balance in agriculture is an act of service to the nation as a whole, not to farmers in particular.

It is to be hoped the picture Secretary Benson saw and remembered was that of an industrious agriculturist, taking good care of its soil and working constructively at the trade, deserving of an equal deal in the national distribution of wealth, posing a serious problem to the nation if that is denied.

The Cost Of Growth

Taxpayers will probably never stop asking where the government spends all their money.

Annual reports for the past year now being completed by various departments of the city are a good example of the growth of Lincoln, its government and the resulting increase in demand for city services. In the matter of streets, for instance, enough new paving has been laid in Lincoln in the past five years to link Lincoln to Fairbury with a hard surfaced road.

Miles of paved streets within the city have increased from 240 at the end of 1950 to 302 at the end of 1955.

Other improvements have been made which are substantial enough to provide major municipal services for a community of several thousand persons. There were 249 miles of sanitary sewers at the end of 1950 as compared with 305 miles at the end of last year.

Storm sewers increased from 60 to 75 miles in the same five years and water mains went from 287 miles to 366 miles. During just the past three years, some 57 new residential subdivisions have been approved by the city for the platting of more than 2,000 lots as home sites.

Many of these things are only an indirect expense to the city as some of the improvements themselves are paid for by abutting property owners or in other ways. However, all such improvements mean more maintenance and more employees.

When new paving is laid, it must be swept clean by the street department. More subdivisions mean more homes and more homes mean additional people in the parks, on the streets and in many other phases of city service.

To meet this demand, the city payroll in the past five years has gone from $131,824.08 a month to $204,634.91. The number of employees has risen from 601 in May of 1951 to 716 during the same month of 1956. The average monthly salary, excluding directors and the mayor and City Council, has gone during the same period from $219 a month to $293.

With services rendered on the increase, types of services expanding and a growing payroll there is little direction for the tax levy to go but up. The reports of departments which show this growth of the city seldom receive the attention they actually deserve. The reports may be past history but they serve well to show that the city government has grown not just to perpetuate or nourish itself but rather, to meet the burdens of a constantly growing community.

Trip Is All Right

Most of the country will nod approval to the forthcoming visit of Gen. Nathan Twining to Russia.

Twining was singled out by the Russian officials as the American military man who will be welcomed at their air force show June 24.

Those who have opposed his acceptance tend to make too much of it. A nation's invitation to one general is not much more than just that. It was a gracious act, possibly indicating a readiness for more extensive exchanges later. It goes beyond the limits of imagination to believe that Gen. Twining will attend an air show and come home loaded with Russian military secrets and it is equally far-fetched to consider his visit loaded with obligations affecting all of our government.

There was something significant last summer in the exchange visits of agricultural delegations. There will be about the same significance in Twining's visit. Two things may come about. Any show of hospitality can lead to later demonstrations of good will. And Gen. Twining as a military man can come home to give one man's—a qualified man's—expression of Russia's general military situation. It may serve to help clear up some of our conflicting opinions which have been based on hearsay.

Belated Honor

St. John's College at Annapolis, Maryland, has listed the graduates it will honor this year at commencement. It included one Francis Scott Key. Yes, it was the same Key who wrote the Star Spangled Banner 160 years ago. Say what you will, St. John's College ought never to make the mistake of giving recognition ill-advisedly because of undue haste.

Twining Will Go To Russia Alone

WASHINGTON—There was more backstage huddling over the Kremlin's invitation to the Air Force to view the Soviet air show than usually happens in backstage-huddling Washington.

In the first place, the State Department was peeved when the invitation went direct to the Pentagon, not through the usual state department channels. Second, Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, suggested that the entire joint chiefs of staff be invited.

Other officials couldn't be quite sure whether this was because Radford wanted to go too, or whether he figured this was a good way to kill off the invitation to the Air Force.

At any rate, when this suggestion was put to the Kremlin by U.S. Ambassador Bohlen, he was informed that the Russian government would have invited all three joint chiefs if they had wanted them, but they didn't.

This reply resulted in another high-strategy conference in Washington in which the State Department favored rejecting the invitation altogether.

In the end, Eisenhower and Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had a private talk at which Twining pointed out that his experts could pick up valuable information if they went to Moscow. So Ike agreed.

MCCARTHY'S REVENGE

The recent Republican slap-in-the-face of Senator Alex Wiley of Wisconsin has had both national and international repercussions. The GOP high command in Washington isn't happy about it.

Three factors worry GOP national leaders:

1. The revival of McCarthyism.
  2. The growth of isolationism.
- Wiley had steadfastly supported the Eisenhower foreign-aid program.

ED FITZHUGH

Whiskers No Sign Of True Manliness

Now comes a razor blade company with a lot of sassy advice on how a man ought to shave.

It might be all right for a fellow with 25,000 whiskers, which is the average. But I'm different. And I'm sensitive. I've been sensitive ever since the time I let my beard grow for three weeks and a barber said, "Say, you missed a little patch when you shaved this morning."

My phiz just isn't pertile. In view of this, you can understand my righteous resentment at being told that the only way to get a good shave is to wash my face in hot water and soap for two minutes, lather it for three minutes, hold the razor at about a 25-degree angle and mow with short, firm strokes, meanwhile using a wet razor.

If I washed and lathered for five minutes, I'd rub off so much growth that there wouldn't be anything left to use a razor on. A man doesn't like to be entirely bald-faced. It makes too good an adjective.

To be able to say that 25,000 is the average, they must have

3. Traces of a hate-Eisenhower sentiment by GOP reactionaries.

Here are some of the backstage factors regarding this significant battle reported back to Washington from Wisconsin.

For seven years Joe McCarthy has been trying to get Wiley out of the Senate. He chafed at being called the "Junior Senator," first tried to get Wiley appointed ambassador to Norway, now is trying to defeat him.

McCarthy's allies have been Tom Coleman, the Taft leader who fought so bitterly against Ike at Chicago and who still is resentful over that defeat; Walter Harnischfeger, the once pro-Hitler industrialist who sold McCarthy on releasing Nazi prisoners convicted of the Malmedy massacre; William Grede, ex-president of the National Association of Manufacturers; and more recently the Texas gas-oil moguls.

Wiley fought against the oil-gas lobby during the Senate debate on the natural gas bill, while McCarthy voted for the bill. Probably he felt he had to, in view of all the money the oil moguls poured in to back him.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and William McChesney Martin, president of the Federal Reserve Board, are engaged in a battle over bank credit. Humphrey wants to ease bank loans in order to help the economy; Martin claims this is using the nation's credit for political purposes.

Congressmen Dawson of Chicago and John McCormack of Boston are planning a penetrating probe of the Treasury department, regarding big bankers' influence on U.S. treasury policy. They believe certain bankers actually fixed the interest rate on government bonds.

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Starting Point On Sewer Program

At its last meeting, the Board of Sanitary District 1 again brought up one of the more important questions in connection with the $4 million sanitary sewer improvement program proposed by Black & Veatch of Kansas City, Mo.

The point was raised by George Knight when he spoke of the need for determining whether the city or district would carry out the sewer program. This is an important factor because obviously nothing will ever get done on the improvement until it is decided who will do it. The next thing the question brings up is who and how will the issue of responsibility be settled?

It seems to be an equal burden of both groups to make a determination in this matter. Someone from the city or district is going to have to initiate some action. The two groups will have to come to a meeting of minds and cannot do this unless something is done to bring them together in friendly discussion.

This is actually saying little more than to get something done, you must get started — to build a house you must start laying a foundation. This may seem like such a self-evident or obvious point that it is not worthy of mention but it is the thing found lacking to date on the sewer program.

Both the city and district have agreed that sewer improvements are essential and that responsibility for this work must be fixed with one or the other subdivisions. They have failed, however, to take any steps toward accomplishing this end. A phone call, or at most a letter, could start the ball rolling but officials of both groups have apparently been satisfied to wait for the other party to make the first move.

With a total of $10,540,000 in proposed bond issues facing the voters at the June 26 special election, it might be argued that this is no time to start talking about a $4 million sewer program. Such is not the case. If that kind of talk scares voters at what might seem to be an inopportune time, then it will just have to scare them. Certainly the voters are entitled to know about and consider in their balloting all the needs of the community as they are presently known.

Also, the sewer program is not one that is going to be settled overnight. To say that there are many problems to be settled before construction could be started is putting it very mildly. It will take time to settle the issue of responsibility, to determine which part of the program will be started first and how it will be financed.

If financing is to be through revenue bonds, a system of charging for sewer service must be set up to provide the revenue to pay off the bonds. Any kind of bond issue would mean a vote of the people, which again takes time.

Even after all those preliminaries are settled, there is the matter of drawing up plans and specifications, again a matter of considerable time. With the time that has already been wasted, it would be quite an accomplishment if anything in the way of final results could be achieved in the sewer program in time for the heavy demand period during the summer of 1957.

Certainly it is already well past the possibility of any sewer relief for this year. Overloaded sewers will continue in this summer's heat to boil over manholes onto the ground and through by-passes into Salt Creek. How much longer that situation must be tolerated will depend to a large degree upon the governing bodies of the city and district.

The suggestion of Mayor Clark

Jeary to change the order of business at City Council meetings to provide for public hearings only every other Monday points up one of the major drawbacks of this form of city government.

With the Council guiding all the affairs of the city, there is just not enough time to get beyond routine business. From one to two hours of every Council meeting is consumed with public hearings—applicants for various things, presenting their cases to the Council in hope of favorable action.

It doesn't seem, however, that the problem will be solved by the single change suggested by Jeary. While one Council meeting will be shortened by no public hearings, the next one will be lengthened by twice as many hearings. What will happen when the hearings run their meeting of the Council into the dinner hour? The Council will face the inconvenience of working through dinner or recessing for a later evening or next morning meeting.

There is also the matter of inconvenience to the public. While not generally of primary importance, a delay of one week in some cases could create some difficulties. Surely the Council will have to make some exceptions to its rule of hearings every other week. With such a rule, ordinances which came up for third reading on a Monday when no hearings were held would have to be laid over until the next meeting.

This will not only create inconvenience, but will further add to the work on the hearings days.

The new procedure may provide, as hoped by Jeary, more time for extra planning and study on other than routine matters. The present multitude of things constantly before the Council has left this particular field of work lacking, to a considerable degree. In the end, however, the extra time looked for will not be found with anything short of more sacrifice on the part of each member of the Council.

The Medical Need

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Let's admit the truth. No one likes to spend money. No one likes to go to a hospital. No one likes to go to a doctor.

Yet each of us daily spends money, and with some frequency goes to the doctor and the hospital when the occasion demands. Why? Our own mature judgment and self-discipline tell us we have to do these things for our own welfare.

The hospital bond issue proposal is similar. We all know that when illness and emergency hit us, we want the best medical facilities possible and plenty of good doctors and related medical skills.

And we know that we are going to have to spend money in order to make these available to ourselves. And that, basically, it will require our own money, no matter how we do it.

We are going to have to support and vote for the hospital proposal not because we like it but because this community simply has to have adequate medical facilities for its citizens and its own self-interest.

MRS. MARK PIERCE

Hospital Care

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Many of the patients we see in Lincoln hospitals could be paying less for medical care. For example, a patient with minor foot injuries had to be hospitalized until she was able to care for herself at home. No special treatment was required but just the same, this patient had to be charged the same room price as the acutely ill patient has to pay—that is, her room included all the special care and treatment of laboratory, X-ray, central supply, pharmacy, standby emergency equipment, surgery, obstetrics, etc., necessary in hospitals as we have them in Lincoln now.

This patient and many, many others, particularly those with long-term, minor, sub-acute illnesses, old age and convalescent patients, need continuous nursing care and medical supervision, but that must be available in a hospital geared to the treatment of all types of sick people.

The new medical center would make it possible for such sub-acute ill patients to receive the care they need at much less expense. This care will be provided for at either Lincoln General or Bryan Memorial Hospitals.

MARIE SADLICK, R.N.

Without Voice

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: To reply to the honored Mayor Jeary who said we could get along without a new City-County Building. The authority picked a block for the building without any voice of the people. Are we to have some appointed committee to tell the taxpayers just what they can and cannot have? Is that democracy? I think not. The present block where the Court House now stands has ample room for a new building, and the city or county shouldn't be compelled to furnish parking space for anyone. Homeowners vote "No" on the bond question.

BEN KECK
Hastings, Neb.

'Authorized' Basis

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The day and hour the state board of control formulated the rule that medicine provided the aged had to be prescribed by a physician on an "authorized" basis, the costs of medicine for the old folks began to climb. The simple, inexpensive drugs they long had used were now denied them unless the older was willing to pay for them himself. If a cold was threatening, no longer could he buy a box of bromo-quinine for to combat it. He must go to a doctor and get his prescription. Then his bill would be paid by the state. Now it is the county doing the paying. Likewise all other simple drugs, such as aspirin, mentholism, milk of magnesia, caroid bile salts, salves and ointments, are denied payment by the county or state, unless a doctor has prescribed them, and that means an office call at $3. Either go to the doctor, or pay for the drugs yourselves, they say to the oldsters.

And there is no provision for the old mothers to get a hair-do. Nope, they can go around with their hair a torment to themselves, as well as unsightly to the public. Assistance won't even pay a barber to cut off their locks. There is no provision made for it in their budget. Now the whole question is whether state assistance was for the old folk?

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

Upping The Speed

Geneva, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Few stop to compute the actual miles gained on a trip by upping speed ten miles per hour.

In another field, only one home in 1200 burns in a city the size of Lincoln and larger.

If I came along with a proposition of winning one in 1200 most folks would turn down the idea regardless of price. Be safe, be sure.

POSTCARD

The late Al Jolson comes to me this sunny morning, courtesy of my hi-fi system.

"I'd walk a million miles for one of your smiles..."

High fidelity is the newest thing in the music field. It shows how you can go about complicating your life.

My hi-fi, for instance, "achieves hum level that is inaudible under any conditions."

Until I got hi-fi I didn't care whether my phonograph hummed or not. I like to hum myself, especially in the shower. If my phonograph wanted to hum with the music it was OK with me. But no longer. No longer in this day of "variable crossover feedbacks."

I think one of the interesting things about hi-fi is the breed of operator it has produced.

The hi-fi sellers speak a language not taught by Berlitz. And they are in no mood to cut you in on it.

"It really depends on how much you want to spend," said the hi-fi man. He picked up a box of knobs.

"Now this, on phono, produces 72 db below output on a 10 mv input signal. That would be better than 85 db below 2v output on high-level channels."

"That's good?"

"Very high performance. Naturally if you wanted something more expensive we could get you something with more level controls."

"I'll think it over," I said.

I went home and thought it over. Then I went back.

"What I have decided is that I want some nice music," I said briskly. "I want something where you put on a record and the music goes round and round and it comes out here."

"As I said," the hi-fi man declared loftily, "it is a question of what you wish to spend."

"It seems to me you have my needs backward, hi-fi man," I said. It seems to me first it is a question of what I want to hear. Then weicker. Right?"

"Wrong. What you hear is what determines the price. Do you think you would like this? It has two cathode follower outputs and a separate high-gain amplifier."

Since this seemed a cunning fellow, I decided to outwit him. I read the hi-fi ads. In order to learn the language.

I studied such things as pre-recorded tape, crossover networks and electrostatic tweeters.

"Let us trade, hi-fi man," I said. "Do you have anything with four inputs, including separate playback preamplifier?"

"That's the Squeak CM-579 unit, isn't it?"

"I will ask the questions. I wish something with the inherent hum nonmeasurable. Plus exclusive balanced 300-ohm inputs for increased signal-to-noise ratio."

"We may have to build it," said the hi-fi man. He looked a little worried.

"Build it," I said. "It should be shock mounted with AM selectivity adjustable and distortion below 0.04 per cent for a one-volt output."

I then went up the street and bought a ready-made thing in a pretty mahogany box.

Everybody has hi-fi these days. But I wonder if they know what they have.

Here is Mr. Al Jolson singing to me about "Mammy." I don't say it doesn't sound better than it did on the old portable phonograph. But I wonder how the hum ratio is. I have a whole switchboard of dials to adjust. But it is more trouble than changing records.

The main thing I notice is that the record has a crack in it. Goes crack "Ma-ha" crack "meee" crack "Ma-ha" crack "meee."

I never heard that in the old machine. The one with the high hum level.

Construction Here Drops 50 Per Cent

Construction for the first five months of 1956 was dropping as predicted from 1955 levels with new home starts falling off by about 50 per cent.

Estimated costs of building according to city permits was $1,221,505 during May, boosting the year to date to $5,585,383. The total for the first five months of last year, however, was $9,629,735.

Permits have been issued this year to date for construction of 431 homes as compared to 893 for the same time last year. The estimated cost of those homes in 1956 has been $3,618,643 as compared to $6,267,562 the previous year.

Major permits issued during May in addition to homes were the new Union College grade school at 51st and Calvert to cost $120,000, the new Randolph Oldsmobile sales and service garage at 21st and N to cost $105,000 and the new Phi Mu sorority house at 5219 Huntington to cost $30,000.

Painting Permits!

"I'd walk a million miles for one of your smiles..."

High fidelity is the newest thing in the music field. It shows how you can go about complicating your life.

My hi-fi, for instance, "achieves hum level that is inaudible under any conditions."

Until I got hi-fi I didn't care whether my phonograph hummed or not. I like to hum myself, especially in the shower. If my phonograph wanted to hum with the music it was OK with me. But no longer. No longer in this day of "variable crossover feedbacks."

I think one of the interesting things about hi-fi is the breed of operator it has produced.

The hi-fi sellers speak a language not taught by Berlitz. And they are in no mood to cut you in on it.

"It really depends on how much you want to spend," said the hi-fi man. He picked up a box of knobs. "Now this, on phono, produces 72 db below output on a 10 mv input signal. That would be better than 85 db below 2v output on high-level channels."

"That's good?"

"Very high performance. Naturally if you wanted something more expensive we could get you something with more level controls."

"I'll think it over," I said. I went home and thought it over. Then I went back.

"What I have decided is that I want some nice music," I said briskly. "I want something where you put on a record and the music goes round and round and it comes out here."

"As I said," the hi-fi man declared loftily, "it is a question of what you wish to spend."

"It seems to me you have my needs backward, hi-fi man," I said. It seems to me first it is a question of what I want to hear. Then weicker. Right?"

"Wrong. What you hear is what determines the price. Do you think you would like this? It has two cathode follower outputs and a separate high-gain amplifier."

Since this seemed a cunning fellow, I decided to outwit him. I read the hi-fi ads. In order to learn the language.

I studied such things as pre-recorded tape, crossover networks and electrostatic tweeters.

"Let us trade, hi-fi man," I said. "Do you have anything with four inputs, including separate playback preamplifier?"

"That's the Squeak CM-579 unit, isn't it?"

"I will ask the questions. I wish something with the inherent hum nonmeasurable. Plus exclusive balanced 300-ohm inputs for increased signal-to-noise ratio."

"We may have to build it," said the hi-fi man. He looked a little worried.

"Build it," I said. "It should be shock mounted with AM selectivity adjustable and distortion below 0.04 per cent for a one-volt output."

I then went up the street and bought a ready-made thing in a pretty mahogany box.

Everybody has hi-fi these days. But I wonder if they know what they have.

Here is Mr. Al Jolson singing to me about "Mammy." I don't say it doesn't sound better than it did on the old portable phonograph. But I wonder how the hum ratio is. I have a whole switchboard of dials to adjust. But it is more trouble than changing records.

The main thing I notice is that the record has a crack in it. Goes crack "Ma-ha" crack "mee" crack "Ma-ha" crack "mee."

I never heard that in the old machine. The one with the high hum level.

Construction Here Drops 50 Per Cent

Construction for the first five months of 1956 was dropping as predicted from 1955 levels with new home starts falling off by about 50 per cent.

Estimated costs of building according to city permits was $1,221,505 during May, boosting the year to date to $5,585,383. The total for the first five months of last year, however, was $9,629,735.

Permits have been issued this year to date for construction of 431 homes as compared to 893 for the same time last year. The estimated cost of those homes in 1956 has been $3,618,643 as compared to $6,267,562 the previous year.

Major permits issued during May in addition to homes were the new Union College grade school at 51st and Calvert to cost $120,000, the new Randolph Oldsmobile sales and service garage at 21st and N to cost $105,000 and the new Phi Mu sorority house at 5219 Huntington to cost $30,000.

Painting Permits! MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP)—The men-folk weren't content with just growing beards for the centennial celebration — they banned cosmetics and jewelry for women without permits. Cameo pins are on sale as permits, the proceeds going for centennial expenses. Violators will be taken before Ye Awful Judges of Ye Kangaroo Court by Ye Female Keystone Kops.

Marilyn Reynolds Wed

MRS. LLOYD KITRELL

Spreading fans of white stock and greenery, and cathedral candles in seven-branched candelabra of graduated height appointed the chancel of the Cozad Methodist Church where the wedding of Miss Marilyn Joan Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Reynolds, and Lloyd Ronald Kitrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Kitrell of Ashland, took place on Sunday afternoon, June 3. The Rev. Nye Bond solemnized the 4 o'clock service, and Mrs. Emil Barta, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied Mrs. James Ganz, the vocal soloist.

Schiffli embroidered tulle in the blush pink shade was chosen for the costumes of the attendants including Mrs. Dale C. Reynolds of Portland, Ore., the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. William Nelson of Denver, and Mrs. Donald Smith of Ashland. The smoothly fitted bodices were designed with portrait necklines that slipped into brief sleeves, and the extremely wide skirts featured back cascades of ruffles beneath puffs of tulle. Half-hats that reflected the tone of their frocks held in place the brief halo veils and they carried white Chantilly lace fans festooned with pink Sweetheart roses.

James MacLay of Lincoln served Mr. Kitrell as best man, and seating the guests were Dr. Dale C. Reynolds, Portland, Ore., brother of the bride, and Gerald D. Kitrell of Ashland, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride appeared in a gown of white tulle silhouetted with applique of Chantilly lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with a shoulder-wide neckline that was framed with delicate scallops of lace which also edged the brief sleeves. The scalloped motif, was repeated at the hem of the voluminous skirt in which a back panel of clear tulle ruffles extended into a sweeping train. Her triple-tiered veil of illusion was held in place with a Queen's crown of lace dotted with minute teardrop pearls and rhinestones. Her cascade bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and maine puffs, was centered with white orchids.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Kitrell and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Denver and Colorado Springs. Upon their return they will reside at Oakland. For traveling Mrs. Kitrell wore a sheath frock of pure silk linen in the sandalwood shade, with beige silk faille jacket and pink accessories.

Mrs. Kitrell is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and Delta Omicron, professional music sorority. Mr. Kitrell, a former

Afternoon Wedding

MRS. JAMES E. BATT

Three hundred invitations were issued for the wedding of Miss Alice Elizabeth Kampman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore H. Kampman of Elmwood, and James E. Batt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Batt of Lincoln, which was an event of Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the Immanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church near Murdock. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the bride's father before a background of blue and white summer blossoms, arranged in pedestal baskets, and lighted candles in seven-branched candelabra. Miss Joan Backe-meyer, pianist, played the wedding music and also accompanied the vocal soloist, Dr. Glenn Knosp.

The attendants, Miss Mer-winna Kampman, the maid of honor, and Miss Clarissa Meyer of Omaha, the bridesmaid, appeared in alike frocks of heavenly blue lace and tulle. Under brief jackets the slender bodices were snugly fitted above the danseuse-length skirts of ruffled tulle. Miss Kampman carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations, centered with pink sweet-heart roses, and Miss Meyer's bouquet was of yellow feathered carnations. Miss Linda Kay Batt and Miss Carol Sue Batt, sisters of the bridegroom, wore pale blue satin choir robes.

Donald Batt of Lincoln served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Gary Batt, also a brother of the bridegroom; Joseph Kelly and Roger Drake, all from Lincoln. The bride chose a gown of French blue organdy taffeta for her wedding. Fashioned in the princess mode the gown was designed with a brief-sleeved bodice in which a shoulder-wide neckline was contoured with lace. The wide, danseuse-length skirt was given added bouffancy with a deep flounce that extended from a straight front panel to the back where the fullness was accented with a large taffeta bow. Her double-tiered veil of imported French blue silk illusion was held to the head with a jeweled coronet, and her taffeta mitts were elbow-length. She carried a white Bible marked with pink sweetheart roses, and her only ornament was a double strand of baby pearls, a gift from the bridegroom's parents.

After a reception, held in the parlors of St. Paul Evangelical United Brethren Church in Elmwood, Mr. Batt and his bride left for a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside at 5118 Colby St. For traveling Mrs. Batt wore a sheath frock of white linen, with pink accessories.

The bride attended North Central College, Naperville, Ill.

be arriving in Lincoln today. After a brief visit in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will go on to Akron, Ohio, to visit Mr. Thompson's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Thompson and their family—Kate, Nora and Sarah, however, will remain in Lincoln as the guests of their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of course, will return to Lincoln for a short stay before they and the three young daughters return to the coast. En route to Lincoln from Akron Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will stop in Evanston where they will be the guests of Mrs. Thompson's brother and sister-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. John S. Thompson and their young son, John.

ALSO on the list of popular guests this week will be Mr. and Mrs. John Bosse and their daughter, Jane, who will be arriving on Wednesday evening from

Eugene, Ore. During their stay in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Bosse and their daughter will be the house guests of Mrs. Bosse's mother, Mrs. Harry Everett, and also will visit Mr. Bosse's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Giles Henkle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bosse, after a few days stay in Lincoln, will go on east, but Miss Jane will remain in town—the guest of her grandmother.

And in case you are wondering about the Bosse's older daughter, Gretchen—she is attending Mills College which, incidentally, will close its classrooms at just about the time Mr. and Mrs. Bosse arrive in Lincoln—Gretchen, we hear, will go to Pacific Grove, Calif., to visit her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Still.

AND JUST this moment we learned that Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kreuscher and their three

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sharrick will leave Lincoln June 12 to drive to Los Angeles where Mr. Sharrick will attend the convention of the International Optimists Clubs at the Biltmore Hotel. En route to the west coast, the Sharricks will stop at Wichita, Kan., where they will be joined by Judge and Mrs. John Free for the trip. Both Mr. Sharrick and Judge Free are past international officers of Optimists. Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Sharrick will visit members of their family at San Francisco and at Las Vegas.

Had Chapel Service

MRS. DONALD EUGENE SMITH

Clusters of lighted white candles and a fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli and pale blue-tinted daisies decorated the chapel of St. Paul Methodist Church Sunday evening, June 3, for the marriage of Miss Laurie Lee Dempster, daughter of Mrs. R. L. Alexander of Houston, Tex., and of Charles Dempster of Los Angeles, to Donald Eugene Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith of Winner, S.D. In the presence of 100 guests, the ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Frank Court, and Miss Marian Elder of North Platte, organist, who played the wedding music, also accompanied Miss Alice Allen of Auburn, the vocal soloist.

The maid of honor and her sister's only attendant was Miss Deanne Dempster of Houston who wore a frock of powder blue silk chiffon. The briefly-sleeved bodice was narrowly tucked and the skirt flared into circular fullness. Her brow veil of blue illusion was held by a tiara of frock-toned chiffon, and she carried a bouquet of blue-tinted daisies.

William Walton served Mr. Smith as best man, and seating the guests were Harry, Knust

White Chantilly lace fashioned the bride's chapel-length gown. The molded bodice was designed with abbreviated sleeves and the heartshaped décolletage was edged by natural scallops of the imported lace embroidered with tiny sequins. The extremely full skirt of lace over satin was worn over crinolines and was finished at the hem by a deep flounce of tulle, and a plateau cap of pearl-trimmed lace held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of white daisies.

Following the reception, which was held in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for Columbus, O., where they will make their home. For her traveling costume, Mrs. Smith chose a blue and white Italian cotton ensemble with white lace trim and white accessories.

The bride has attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Gamma Alpha Chi honorary. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mr. Smith is a member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity and Sigma Tau honorary.

Suburbia

All of our news today seems to be centered on some spot on the map other than Lincoln, but the people who are connected with this news are from Lincoln, or to be more specific, Cotner Terrace Addition. Several events which take us out of our city are families who decided to take their vacations early this year and not wait until it got too hot to even drive around the block.

For instance, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Scott just recently returned from their vacation trip to Colorado and Wyoming. On the way back, they stopped in Kirwin, Kan., to spend Memorial Day with Mrs. Scott's brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lare and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Lare.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson and their two sons, Wayne and Joel, returned to Lincoln May 25 after spending five days in North Platte where they visited Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Denney. They also found time to do a little fishing while there luck wasn't too good in catching any fish, they still had fun trying.

PO 1/c and Mrs. Alfred Lang and their two children, Margaret and Paul, are still looking forward to their vacation, as it does not start until next Friday, June 8 when they will leave for Minnesota. During this two weeks of heaven, they plan to spend some time fishing and will also visit Mr. Lang's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lang, in Brooklyn, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parks had house guests over the week-end from Valentine. They were Mrs. Parks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eastburn had a wonderful Memorial Day, as they and their three children, Chris, Drake and Mark, spent the Holiday at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn which is on the Platte River near Linoma Beach. Other guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Van Horn were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Van Horn and their four children, Tom, Peggy, Mary Jo and Lou Ann.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanson are leaving Lincoln, but we congratulate them on their choice of a new home location, Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. Hanson has already gone, and Mrs. Hanson and Cathy will be making their departure on June 11.

sons, Peter, Robert and Larry, will be arriving from San Diego, Calif., on Monday for a visit with Mrs. Kreuscher's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson.

After a week's stay in Lincoln Dr. and Mrs. Kreuscher will go to Chicago, where Dr. Kreuscher will attend a meeting of the American Medical Association, but the three young Kreuschers will remain in Lincoln. Dr. and Mrs. Kreuscher plan to spend another week or 10 days in Lincoln upon their return from Chicago.

Complimenting Dr. and Mrs. Kreuscher next Thursday evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Fred Ferciot who have invited a group of guests for an after 6 o'clock party to meet the visitors from the west coast.

WHILE on the subject of guests it might be well to cast an eye in the direction of the Swing-fest coming up this week at the Lincoln Country Club—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Sidles will have Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piper of Denver as their guests for the golf festivities. Coming from South Sioux City to attend the Swing-fest as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chapin will be Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Smith—and we're guessing that during their stay in town Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be the house guests of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Battey.

From North Platte will come Mr. and Mrs. Allen who are to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meginnis, and from Fremont will come Mr. and Mrs. David Mitten who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted O'Shea.

Arriving from the greatest distance—at least as far as this morning's guest list is concerned—will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nolte of Seguin, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, who will attend the festivities at the LCG as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein.

Was Bride On Sunday

MRS. JAMES WADLOW

The wedding of Miss Jill Jeanette Caddy, daughter of Mrs. Ivan Caddy and the late Mr. Caddy, and James LaVerne Wadlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wadlow, was an event of Sunday evening, June 3. The ceremony was solemnized at the Havelock Methodist Church where the lines of the 8 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Bruce Gideon before a background of gladioli and lighted candles. Mrs. G. W. Shipman, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied John Carter Cole, the vocal soloist.

Horizon blue was the tone chosen for the crisply bouffant crystalite frocks of the attendants who were Mrs. Forrest DeLunger, the matron of honor; Miss Evelyn Bea Judkins and Miss Phyllis Wadlow, the bridesmaids. Designed in the empire mode the bodices were smoothly sculptured at the waists and completed with large, back bows of crystalite. Each carried a colonial bouquet of carnations and gladioli. Mrs. Robert Butts and Miss Lorraine Barnhill lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Donna Rae Manners of Eagle. Jay Weyers was the ring bearer.

Forrest DeLunger served Mr. Wadlow as best man, and seating the guests were Ronald Wadlow, Dallas, Tex.; Ted Shepard, Donald Eisenbarth and Dale Schlegelmilch.

The bride gown was of monastery white hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The long-sleeved bodice of lace, fashioned with a portrait neckline contoured with lace medallion applique, narrowed to a slender waist beneath which the voluminous tulle skirt was widely paneled with lace in front and back and dipped into a chapel train. Her double-tiered veil was shoulder-length and was held to the head with a small shell hat of jeweled lace edged with pleated tulle. She carried a cascade

A Saturday Ceremony

MRS. JAMES ROBERT TOFT

The chancel of the First Presbyterian Church at Grand Island was lighted by white candles burning in woodwardia-trimmed candelabra and appointed with spreading arrangements of pink stock and carnations, and cathedral candles tied with pink satin bows marked the processional aisle, for the marriage of Miss Mary Kay Beachler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack T. Beachler, to James Robert Toft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Einer Toft, all of Grand Island, on Saturday evening, June 2. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Alton Kaul, and Mrs. Walter Lauritsen, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Lauritsen also accompanied the bride's uncle, R. W. Larrison, who was the vocal soloist.

Serving Mr. Toft as best man was Jack Abercrombie of Beloit, Kan., and seating the guests were John Dunn and John Pace of Independence, Mo., Darrell Webber of Norton, Kan., Dale Toft of Columbus, brother of the bridegroom, Stephen Beachler, the bride's brother, and Thomas Thomssen, of Grand Island.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of Dresden pink imported silk organdy over taffeta. The rounded bodice was bordered by floral appliques of batiste re-embroidered with tiny pink pearls, and the applique motif was repeated on the sculptured bodice which was designed with abbreviated sleeves. Below the narrow waist, the skirt was shirred into extreme fullness and tapered into a chapel train, and her veil of pink silk illusion was held to the head by an oval plateau of organdy and pearl-trimmed batiste. She carried a crescent arrangement of pink orchids and bouvardia.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Riverside Golf Club, after which the couple left for a southern wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Toft will reside at Lawrence, Kan., where the bridegroom, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, is completing his studies at the University of Kansas. Mrs. Toft has attended the University of Nebraska and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Entertains

The Opt-Mrs. Club of Lincoln held its final meeting of the season Friday when the members met at the home of Mrs. D. E. Meyer for a morning coffee. Mrs. Meyer, outgoing president, conducted the meeting at which annual reports were given by the officers and chairmen.

New officers of the club are Mrs. Chris Beck, president; Mrs. C. B. Remington, vice president; Mrs. Harry Spahn, secretary; and Mrs. Leonard J. Owen, treasurer.

Marilyn Reynolds Wed NEWS AROUND TOWN A Saturday Ceremony

MRS. LLOYD KITRELL

Spreading fans of white stock and greenery, and cathedral candles in seven-branched candelabra of graduated height appointed the chancel of the Cozad Methodist Church where the wedding of Miss Marilyn Joan Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Reynolds, and Lloyd Ronald Kittrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas Kittrell of Ashland, took place on Sunday afternoon, June 3. The Rev. Nye Bond solemnized the 4 o'clock service, and Mrs. Emil Barta, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied Mrs. James Ganz, the vocal soloist.

Schiffli embroidered tulle in the blush pink shade was chosen for the costumes of the attendants including Mrs. Dale C. Reynolds of Portland, Ore., the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. William Nelson of Denver, and Mrs. Donald Smith of Ashland. The smoothly fitted bodices were designed with portrait necklines that slipped into brief sleeves, and the extremely wide skirts featured back cascades of ruffles beneath puffs of tulle. Half-hats that reflected the tone of their frocks held in place the brief halo veils and they carried white Chantilly lace fans festooned with pink Sweetheart roses.

James MacLay of Lincoln served Mr. Kittrell as best man, and seating the guests were Dr. Dale C. Reynolds, Portland, Ore., brother of the bride, and Gerald D. Kittrell of Ashland, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride appeared in a gown of white tulle silhouetted with applique of Chantilly lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with a shoulder-wide neckline that was framed with delicate scallops of lace which also edged the brief sleeves. The scalloped motif, was repeated at the hem of the voluminous skirt in which a back panel of clear tulle ruffles extended into a sweeping train. Her triple-tiered veil of illusion was held in place with a Queen's crown of lace dotted with minute teardrop pearls and rhinestones. Her cascade bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and maline puffs, was centered with white orchids.

After the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Kittrell and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Denver and Colorado Springs. Upon their return they will reside at Oakland. For traveling Mrs. Kittrell wore a sheath frock of pure silk linen in the sandalwood shade, with beige silk faille jacket and pink accessories.

Mrs. Kittrell is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and Delta Omicron, professional music sorority. Mr. Kittrell, a former

Afternoon Wedding

MRS. JAMES E. BATT

Three hundred invitations were issued for the wedding of Miss Alice Elizabeth Kampman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore H. Kampman of Elmwood, and James E. Batt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Batt of Lincoln, which was an event of Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the Immanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church near Murdoch. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the bride's father before a background of blue and white summer blossoms, arranged in pedestal baskets, and lighted candles in seven-branched candelabra. Miss Joan Backe-meyer, pianist, played the wedding music and also accompanied the vocal soloist, Dr. Glenn Knosp.

The attendants, Miss Mer-winna Kampman, the maid of honor, and Miss Clarissa Meyer of Omaha, the bridesmaid, appeared in alike frocks of heaven-blue lace and tulle. Under brief jackets the slender bodices were snugly fitted above the danseuse-length skirts of ruffled tulle. Miss Kampman carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered carnations, centered with pink sweet-heart roses, and Miss Meyer's bouquet was of yellow feathered carnations. Miss Linda Kay Batt and Miss Carol Sue Batt, sisters of the bridegroom, wore pale blue satin choir robes.

Donald Batt of Lincoln served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Gary Batt, also a brother of the bridegroom; Joseph Kelly and Roger Drake, all from Lincoln.

The bride chose a gown of French blue organdine taffeta for her wedding. Fashioned in the princess mode the gown was designed with a brief-sleeved bodice in which a shoulder-wide neckline was contoured with lace. The wide, danseuse-length skirt was given added bouffancy with a deep flounce that extended from a straight front panel to the back where the fullness was accented with a large taffeta bow. Her double-tiered veil of imported French blue silk illusion was held to the head with a jeweled coronet, and her taffeta mitts were elbow-length. She carried a white Bible marked with pink sweetheart roses, and her only ornament was a double strand of baby pearls, a gift from the bridegroom's parents.

After a reception, held in the parlors of the St. Paul Evangelical United Brethren Church in Elmwood, Mr. Batt and his bride left for a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside at 5118 Colby St. For traveling Mrs. Batt wore a sheath frock of white linen, with pink accessories.

The bride attended North Central College, Naperville, Ill.

WELL, WELL and well! It's Monday, it's June, it's a wonderful world filled with guests—current and potential—

Think we'll begin the news with the younger generation—Miss Sarah Thompson, for instance, who accompanied her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Thompson, home from La Jolla, Calif., a few days ago. Dr. and Mrs. Thompson had been visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson in La Jolla, and decided to bring Sarah home with them. Sarah, however, is just the advance guard—the rest of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Sarah's two sisters, Nora and Kate, will be arriving in Lincoln today. After a brief visit in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will go on to Akron, Ohio, to visit Mr. Thompson's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Thompson and their family—Kate, Nora and Sarah, however, will remain in Lincoln as the guests of their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of course, will return to Lincoln for a short stay before they and the three young daughters return to the coast. En route to Lincoln from Akron Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will stop in Evanston where they will be the guests of Mrs. Thompson's brother and sister-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. John S. Thompson and their young son, John.

ALSO on the list of popular guests this week will be Mr. and Mrs. John Bosse and their daughter, Jane, who will be arriving on Wednesday evening from

Eugene, Ore. During their stay in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Bosse and their daughter will be the house guests of Mrs. Bosse's mother, Mrs. Harry Everett, and also will visit Mr. Bosse's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Giles Henkle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bosse, after a few days stay in Lincoln, will go on east, but Miss Jane will remain in town—the guest of her grandmother.

And in case you are wondering about the Bosse's older daughter, Gretchen—she is attending Mills College which, incidentally, will close its classrooms at just about the time Mr. and Mrs. Bosse arrive in Lincoln—Gretchen, we hear, will go to Pacific Grove, Calif., to visit her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Still.

AND JUST this moment we learned that Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kreuscher and their three sons, Peter, Robert and Larry, will be arriving from San Diego, Calif., on Monday for a visit with Mrs. Kreuscher's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. M. Thomson.

After a week's stay in Lincoln Dr. and Mrs. Kreuscher will go to Chicago, where Dr. Kreuscher will attend a meeting of the American Medical Association, but the three young Kreuschers will remain in Lincoln. Dr. and Mrs. Kreuscher plan to spend another week or 10 days in Lincoln upon their return from Chicago.

Complimenting Dr. and Mrs. Kreuscher next Thursday evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Fred Perciot who have invited a group of guests for an after 6 o'clock party to meet the visitors from the west coast.

WHILE on the subject of guests it might be well to cast an eye in the direction of the Swing-fest coming up this week at the Lincoln Country Club—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Sidles will have Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piper of Denver as their guests for the golf festivities. Coming from South Sioux City to attend the Swing-fest as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chapin will be Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Smith—and we're guessing that during their stay in town Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be the house guests of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Battey.

From North Platte will come Mr. and Mrs. Allen who are to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meginnis, and from Fremont will come Mr. and Mrs. David Mitten who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted O'Shea.

Arriving from the greatest distance—at least as far as this morning's guest list is concerned—will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nolte of Seguin, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, who will attend the festivities at the LCG as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sharrick will leave Lincoln June 12 to drive to Los Angeles where Mr. Sharrick will attend the convention of the International Optimists Clubs at the Biltmore Hotel. En route to the west coast, the Sharricks will stop at Wichita, Kan., where they will be joined by Judge and Mrs. John Free for the trip. Both Mr. Sharrick and Judge Free are past international officers of Optimists. Before returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Sharrick will visit members of their family at San Francisco and at Las Vegas.

Had Chapel Service

MRS. DONALD EUGENE SMITH

Clusters of lighted white candles and a fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli and pale blue-tinted daisies decorated the chapel of St. Paul Methodist Church Sunday evening, June 3, for the marriage of Miss Laurie Lee Dempster, daughter of Mrs. R. L. Alexander of Houston, Tex., and of Charles Dempster of Los Angeles, to Donald Eugene Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith of Winner, S.D. In the presence of 100 guests, the ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Frank Court, and Miss Marian Elder of North Platte, organist, who played the wedding music, also accompanied Miss Alice Allen of Auburn, the vocal soloist.

The maid of honor and her sister's only attendant was Miss Deanne Dempster of Houston who wore a frock of powder blue silk chiffon. The briefly-sleeved bodice was narrowly tucked and the skirt flared into circular fullness. Her brow veil of blue illusion was held by a tiara of frock-toned chiffon, and she carried a bouquet of blue-tinted daisies.

White Chantilly lace fashioned the bride's chapel-length gown. The molded bodice was designed with abbreviated sleeves and the heartshaped décolletage was edged by natural scallops of the imported lace embroidered with tiny sequins. The extremely full skirt of lace over satin was worn over crinolines and was finished at the hem by a deep flounce of tulle, and a plateau cap of pearl-trimmed lace held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of white daisies.

Following the reception, which was held in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for Columbus, O., where they will make their home. For her traveling costume, Mrs. Smith chose a blue and white Italian cotton ensemble with white lace trim and white accessories.

The bride has attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and Gamma Alpha Chi honorary. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mr. Smith is a member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity and Sigma Tau honorary.

Suburbia

All of our news today seems to be centered on some spot on the map other than Lincoln, but the people who are connected with this news are from Lincoln, or, to be more specific, Cotner Terrace Addition. Several events which take us out of our city are families who decided to take their vacations early this year and not wait until it got too hot to even drive around the block.

For instance, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Scott just recently returned from their vacation trip to Colorado and Wyoming. On the way back, they stopped in Kirwin, Kan., to spend Memorial Day with Mrs. Scott's brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lare and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Lare.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus Johnson and their two sons, Wayne and Joel, returned to Lincoln May 25 after spending five days in North Platte where they visited Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dempcy. They also found time to do a little fishing while they were there and although there luck wasn't too good in catching any fish, they still had fun trying.

PO 1/c and Mrs. Alfred Lang and their two children, Margaret and Paul, are still looking forward to their vacation, as it does not start until next Friday, June 8 when they will leave for Minnesota. During this two weeks of heaven, they plan to spend some time fishing and will also visit Mr. Lang's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lang, in Broten, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parks had house guests over the week-end from Valentine. They were Mrs. Parks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eastburn had a wonderful Memorial Day, as they and their three children, Chris, Drake and Mark, spent the Holiday at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn which is on the Platte River near Linoma Beach. Other guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Van Horn were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Van Horn and their four children, Tom, Peggy, Mary Jo and Lou Ann.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanson are leaving Lincoln, but we congratulate them on their choice of a new home location, Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. Hanson has already gone, and Mrs. Hanson and Cathy will be making their departure on June 11.

MRS. JAMES ROBERT TOFT

The chancel of the First Presbyterian Church at Grand Island was lighted by white candles burning in woodwardia-trimmed candelabra and appointed with spreading arrangements of pink stock and carnations, and cathedral candles tied with pink satin bows marked the processional aisle, for the marriage of Miss Mary Kay Beachler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack T. Beachler, to James Robert Toft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Einer Toft, all of Grand Island, on Saturday evening, June 2. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Alton Kaul, and Mrs. Walter Lauritsen, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Lauritsen also accompanied the bride's uncle, R. W. Larrison, who was the vocal soloist.

Wearing alike ensembles of peau de chine in the lilac tone were Miss Ingrid Swerre of Omaha, who was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Pickett of Lincoln, and Miss Billie Howalt of Sioux Falls, S.D. The attendants' frocks were fashioned with molded torso bodices and full skirts caught into pouf bustles lined with pink and accented by large, flat bows of pink velvet. They wore tiny nose veils of pink illusion and carried crescents of pink carnations and garnet roses.

Serving Mr. Toft as best man was Jack Abercrombie of Beloit, Kan., and seating the guests were John Dunn and John Pace of Independence, Mo., Darrell Webber of Norton, Kan., Dale Toft of Columbus, brother of the bridegroom, Stephen Beachler, the bride's brother, and Thomas Thomssen, of Grand Island.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of Dresden pink imported silk organdy over taffeta. The rounded décolletage was bordered by floral appliques of batiste re-embroidered with tiny pink pearls, and the applique motif was repeated on the sculptured bodice which was designed with abbreviated sleeves. Below the narrow waist, the skirt was shirred into extreme fullness and tapered into a chapel train, and her veil of pink silk illusion was held to the head by an oval plateau of organdy and pearl-trimmed batiste. She carried a crescent arrangement of pink orchids and bouvardia.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Riverside Golf Club, after which the couple left for a southern wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Toft will reside at Lawrence, Kan., where the bridegroom, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, is completing his studies at the University of Kansas. Mrs. Toft has attended the University of Nebraska and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Entertains

The Opti-Mrs. Club of Lincoln held its final meeting of the season Friday when the members met at the home of Mrs. D. E. Meyer for a morning coffee. Mrs. Meyer, outgoing president, conducted the meeting at which annual reports were given by the officers and chairmen.

New officers of the club are Mrs. Chris Beck, president; Mrs. C. B. Remington, vice president; Mrs. Harry Spahn, secretary; and Mrs. Leonard J. Owen, treasurer.

Was Bride On Sunday

MRS. JAMES WADLOW

The wedding of Miss Jill Jeanette Caddy, daughter of Mrs. Ivan Caddy and the late Mr. Caddy, and James LaVerne Wadlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wadlow, was an event of Sunday evening, June 3. The ceremony was solemnized at the Havenlock Methodist Church where the lines of the 8 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Bruce Gideon before a background of gladioli and lighted candles. Mrs. G. W. Shipman, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied John Carter Cole, the vocal soloist.

Horizon blue was the tone chosen for the crisply bouffant crystalettes frocks of the attendants who were Mrs. Forrest DeLunger, the matron of honor; Miss Evelyn Bea Judkins and Miss Phyllis Wadlow, the bridesmaids. Designed in the empire mode the bodices were smoothly sculptured at the waists and completed with large, back bows of crystalette. Each carried a colonial bouquet of carnations and gladioli. Mrs. Robert Butts and Miss Lorraine Barnhill lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Donna Rae Manners of Eagle. Jay Weyers was the ring bearer.

Forrest DeLunger served Mr. Wadlow as best man, and seating the guests were Ronald Wadlow, Dallas, Tex.; Ted Shepard, Donald Eisenbarth and Dale Schlegelmilch.

The bridal gown was of monastery white hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. The long-sleeved bodice of lace, fashioned with a portrait neckline contoured with lace medallion applique, narrowed to a slender waist beneath which the voluminous tulle skirt was widely paneled with lace in front and back and dipped into a chapel train. Her double-tiered veil was shoulder length and was held to the head with a small shell hat of jeweled lace edged with pleated tulle. She carried a cascade

After a reception for the 250 wedding guests, held in the church parlors, Mr. Wadlow and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to the Ozarks. Upon their return they will reside at 4201 No. 63rd St.

Mr. Wadlow is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

These Brides Chose A Sunday In June For Their Weddings

MRS. DALE STUKENHOLTZ

MRS. BRUCE FAIRCHILD

MRS. ROBERT LEE CARROLL

MRS. MELVIN CAMPBELL

MRS. HARRY CRADICK

MRS. ROBERT BEHRENS

GOERING-STUKENHOLTZ
At a candlelight ceremony solemnized early Sunday evening, June 3, at the Zion Evangelical Reformed Church in Talmage, Miss Joyce Goering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Goering of Johnson, became the bride of Dale Stukenholtz, son of Wilber Stukenholtz of Lincoln. Tall bouquets of white and pink peonies against a screen of woodwardia formed the chancel decor for the double ring service, which was read by the Rev. Edwin Eiben, and Mrs. Eileen Woeft, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocalist, Miss Joan Bank.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Boyd Wakelin of Brock appeared in a full-skirted frock of pink net fashioned in the waltz length. A stole of net covered the strapless bodice, and she carried a crescent of white and pink peonies. Costumed identically in pink and pastel blue net were the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Goering of Johnson, also a sister of the bride, Miss Sharon Willard of Lincoln, and Miss Marilyn Buelke of Ceresco. The flower girl was Miss Ann Marie Stukenholtz, niece of the bridegroom, and Gregg Stukenholtz, the bridegroom's nephew, was ringbearer.

Willis Kriz of Lincoln served as best man, and the corps of ushers included Boyd Wakelin of Brock, George Stukenholtz and Stanley Stukenholtz, brothers of the bridegroom, and Roger Stukenholtz, the bridegroom's cousin, all of Nebraska City, and Marvin Adcock, Auburn. Lighting the candles for the ceremony were Kenneth Goering of Johnson, brother of the bride, and Paul Critchlow.

The bride chose white Chantilly-type lace and silk tulle for her wedding gown. The strapless bodice of lace was covered by a long-sleeved bolero of the lace, snugly buttoned to a high Peter Pan collar. Beneath the fitted midriff, the lace extended into a scalloped peplum over the full skirt of tulle, and the lace was repeated in the tiny brim which held her illusion veil. She carried a white Bible marked with a cluster of white roses.

Following the reception held in the church parlors, Mr. Stukenholtz and his bride left for a Colorado honeymoon trip after which they will reside at 418 So. 25th. Mrs. Stukenholtz wore for traveling a pale blue ensemble with white accessories.

The bridegroom is a June graduate of the University of Nebraska where he will continue his post-graduate studies.

OLSEN-FAIRCHILD
The marriage of Miss Lola May Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Olsen of Hardy, to Bruce Marion Fairchild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fairchild of Endicott, took place at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the St. Paul Lutheran Church in Hardy. Arrangements of pastel-toned snapdragons, and white gladioli appointed the altar and the chancel to form a background for the ceremony which was solemnized by the Rev. E. S. Hansen. Miss Shirley Magee, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied the Rev. Mr. Hansen and Mrs. Hubert Simonson, the vocal soloists.

As their sister's attendants Miss Loretta Olsen, the maid of honor, and Miss Letha Olsen, the bridesmaid, wore alike waltz-length frocks of pale blue crystal over tulle. Their frock-topped hair bandeaux were caught with rosettes and each carried a crescent basket of lace filled with red roses and stephanotis. Patricia Fairchild, sister of the bridegroom, and Carol Christensen, wearing white choir robes, lighted the candles.

Donald Fairchild served his brother as best man, and the guests were seated by Lloyd Olsen of Courtland, Kan., brother of the bride.

White Alencon lace and tulle over satin fashioned the bridal gown. The long-sleeved lace bodice was designed with a lace-patterned yoke of tulle, and the lace was repeated in kerchief effect over the extremely bouffant skirt of tulle. A coronet of seed pearls held in place the double-tiered veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Mr. Fairchild and his bride, following a reception in the church parlors, left for a short honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Lincoln.

Mr. Fairchild is attending the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration.

WORKMAN-CARROLL

For the marriage of Miss Delouise Frances Workman, daughter of Mrs. Dolores Lucille Workman and Frank Monroe Workman, to Robert Lee Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Carroll of Ellsworth, Ia., on Sunday afternoon, June 3, lighted white candles and bouquets of white and pink gladioli appointed the chancel of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church. The 3 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Arthur Crisp, and Mrs. Henry Sengstake, organist, played the wedding music. As the 200 guests assembled, Mrs. Sengstake also accompanied Dan Brobst, the vocal soloist.

Attending her cousin as matron of honor was Mrs. Dave Printy of Belleville, Ill., and the maid of honor was Miss Maxine Alexander. Miss Jean Thorough was the junior bridesmaid. The attendants' identical frocks of silk tulle taffeta shaded from petal pink to the deeper cameo tone. Small bows accented the back of the low, rounded necklines, and below the snug bodices, the skirts widened into waltz length. They carried arrangements of pink carnations. Lighting the candles were Miss Francine Workman, sister of the bride, and Miss Carol Wilsey of Keokuk, Ia., the bride's cousin, and the flower girl was Miss Vicky Ann Workman, niece of the bride.

Serving as best man was Howard Sisler, and the ushers were Gary Law of Denver, Dave Printy of Belleville, Ill., Harold Myrick of Topeka, Kan., uncle of the bridegroom, and Everett Thompson. Leonard Carroll of Omaha, the bridegroom's nephew, was the ringbearer.

White tulle and handclipped

Chantilly lace over satin fashioned the bride's period gown. The sculptured bodice of lace was designed with a portrait neckline bordered with circles of seed pearls, and the brief sleeves were edged with scallops of the lace and accented by long lace mitts. The scallop motif was repeated on the full lace panels which alternated with tulle to form the wide skirt, and her waist-length veil of illusion was held to the head by a Victorian coronet of jeweled lace. She carried a crescent bouquet of white feathered carnations and pink roses.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church. For their honeymoon trip to Colorado, after which the couple will reside at 1447 Washington, Mrs. Carroll wore a sheath frock of turquoise silk with white accessories.

SYFERT-CAMPBELL

Lighted candles and greenery formed the chancel appointments at the College View Seventh Day Adventist Church where the marriage of Miss Marjorie Eileen Syfert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vernon Syfert, to Melvin Duane Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra J. Campbell, of Minneapolis, Minn., took place at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening, June 3. The service was solemnized by Elder P. C. James, and Mrs. James Thompson, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Jean Shafer, the vocal soloist, and Don McPherson, the violin soloist.

Mrs. Wayne Page of Denver was the matron of honor and her frock was of turquoise blue crystalline. Miss Bonnie Syfert of Omaha, wearing yellow crystalline, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids, both in blue crystalline, were Mrs. Emory Gusso of Denver and Miss Jeanette Syfert. The identically styled frocks were designed with rounded necklines in fitted bodices, and wide pleated skirts in ballerina length. Their pillbox hats and mitts matched the shade of their costumes, and each carried a white fan ornamented with frock-toned carnations. The candles were lighted by Miss Roberta Syfert and Donald Syfert.

Robert Rentfro of Pueblo, Colo., served Mr. Campbell as best man, and the ushers were Leland Campbell, Donald Campbell and Floyd Campbell, all of Minneapolis; Carl Bauer, Edwin Owens, Jess Simons and Ronald Cornillon.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of ivory satin. The long-sleeved fitted bodice was fashioned with a deep yoke of illusion which created an off-shoulder effect that was accentuated with a drape of pleated tulle caught with satin rosettes. The soft folds of the wide skirt extended into a chapel train. Her veil of tulle was held to the head with a crown of tulle and lace and she carried a white Bible marked with pink roses.

After a reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Campbell and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to the Ozarks and upon their return they will reside at 4618 Prescott. For traveling Mrs.

Campbell wore a beige ensemble with white trim.

REILING-CRADICK

The marriage of Miss Janice Ann Reiling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reiling of Utica, to Larry Lee Cradick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cradick, also of Utica, took place at a 7 o'clock ceremony on Sunday evening, June 3, at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Utica. Miss Maxine Fuerniss, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocal soloists, Miss Mildred Knorr and Verdel Dahling. The lines of the service were read by the Rev. Dean Griesse.

Miss Marlene Reiling of Lincoln, her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Mary Lou Cradick, sister of the bridegroom, the bridesmaid, were frocked alike in pale blue crystal over tulle. Their colonial bouquets were fashioned of blue and white summer blossoms. Miss Dorothy Reiling and Dennis Cradick lighted the candles.

Ivan Cradick of Bayard, Ia., served his cousin as best man, and the ushers were Bart Hansen of Omaha, and Raymond Verba.

White Schiffl embroidered

tulle over satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. The smooth, tulle-over-satin bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, traced with shirred tulle, and brief sleeves. The billowing skirt of embroidered tulle was given added bouffancy with insets of clear tulle. A half-hat held in place the tiered, waist-length veil of tulle, and she carried a bouquet of deep purple orchids.

Mr. Cradick and his bride, following a reception for 250 guests in the Utica auditorium, left for a brief honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Lincoln. For traveling Mrs. Cradick wore a blue and white linen frock with white accessories.

CALVERT-BEHRENS

At a 4:30 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, June 3, the marriage of Miss Katherine Calvert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Calvert of Pierce, to Robert Behrens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Behrens, also of Pierce, was solemnized at the Pierce Methodist Church. The service was read by the Rev. Mr. Schwabauer before a background of pink majestic daisies and white stock, lighted candles, in seven-branched candelabra, and greenery. Miss Janet Baldwin played the wedding music and accompanied the vocal soloists, Miss Nancy Tompkins and Gifford Tompkins.

Chiffon over tulle fashioned the costumes of the attendants who were Miss Marian Calvert of Omaha, the maid of honor, who wore pale pink; and Miss Donna Behrens of Pierce, sister of the bridegroom, who was the bridesmaid and who appeared in the mint green shade. The frocks were identically styled with portrait necklines in brief-sleeved, elongated bodices, and bouffant skirts. Each completed her costume with a picture hat in frock tone, and each carried a basket filled with gladioli, pink for the maid of honor, and green for the bridesmaid. Mary Campbell and Janice Rolofson lighted the candles, and the ring bearer was Berry Gridley.

Leon Taylor of Pender served Mr. Behrens as best man, and the ushers included Russell Breikreutz, Weeping Water; Ron Ricketts, Parks, Frank Harkness and Duane Rexroth, Humboldt.

The bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved, fitted bodice of lace was fashioned with a shoulder-wide neckline, and the voluminous skirt, banded with lace, was completed with a deep flounce that drifted into a circular train. A shell hat of lace, dotted with pearls, held to the head her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of pink cymbidium orchids on a white Bible.

After the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Behrens and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and upon their return they will reside at 5327 Cleveland, Lincoln. Mrs. Behrens traveled in a black shantung frock, touched with white, and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Behrens will return to Nebraska Wesleyan University where both will be seniors in the fall. The bride is a member of Willard sorority, and Mr. Behrens is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Doris Guthals Tucker, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Guthals, to Lyle L. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Beaver Crossing, on Sunday afternoon, June 3. The 4 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. E. W. Philippi at Sheridan Lutheran Church, and Mrs. Gene Wolken, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Wolken also accompanied Mrs. E. W. Philippi, who was the vocal soloist.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Frohn, and lighting the altar candles for the ceremony was Jack Damm.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will make their home near Beaver Crossing.

These Brides Chose A Sunday In June For Their Weddings

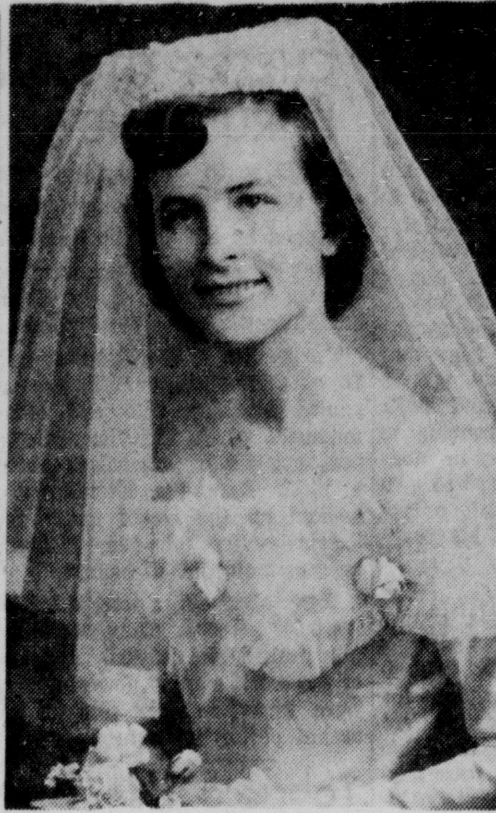

MRS. DALE STUKENHOLTZ

MRS. BRUCE FAIRCHILD

MRS. ROBERT LEE CARROLL

MRS. MELVIN CAMPBELL

MRS. HARRY CRADICK

GOERING-STUKENHOLTZ

At a candlelight ceremony solemnized early Sunday evening, June 3, at the Zion Evangelical Reformed Church in Tallmage, Miss Joyce Goering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Goering of Johnson, became the bride of Dale Stukenholtz, son of Wilber Stukenholtz of Lincoln. Tall bouquets of white and pink peonies against a screen of woodwardia formed the chancel decor for the double ring service, which was read by the Rev. Edwin Eiben, and Mrs. Eileen Woelfst, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocalist, Miss Joan Bank.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Boyd Wakelin of Brock appeared in a full-skirted frock of pink net fashioned in the waltz length. A stole of net covered the strapless bodice, and she carried a crescent of white and pink peonies. Costumed identically in pink and pastel blue net were the bridesmaids, Miss Carol Goering of Johnson, also a sister of the bride, Miss Sharon Willart of Lincoln, and Miss Marilyn Buekle of Ceresco. The flower girl was Miss Ann Marie Stukenholtz, niece of the bridegroom, and Gregg Stukenholtz, the bridegroom's nephew, was ringbearer.

Willis Kriz of Lincoln served as best man, and the corps of ushers included Boyd Wakelin of Brock, George Stukenholtz and Stanley Stukenholtz, brothers of the bridegroom, and Roger Stukenholtz, the bridegroom's cousin, all of Nebraska City. Dwight Hahn of Johnson, and Marvin Adcock, Auburn. Lighting the candles for the ceremony were Kenneth Goering of Johnson, brother of the bride, and Paul Critchlow.

The bride chose white Chantilly-type lace and silk tulle for her wedding gown. The strapless bodice of lace was covered by a long-sleeved bolero of the lace, snugly buttoned to a high Peter Pan collar. Beneath the fitted midriff, the lace extended into a scalloped peplum over the full skirt of tulle, and the lace was repeated in the tiny brim which held her illusion veil. She carried a white Bible marked with a cluster of white roses.

in the church parlors, Mr. Stukenholtz and his bride left for a Colorado honeymoon trip after which they will reside at 418 So. 25th. Mrs. Stukenholtz wore for traveling a pale blue ensemble with white accessories.

The bridegroom is a June graduate of the University of Nebraska where he will continue his post-graduate studies.

OLSEN-FAIRCHILD

The marriage of Miss Lola May Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Olsen of Hardy, to Bruce Marion Fairchild, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fairchild of Endicott, took place at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the St. Paul Lutheran Church in Hardy. Arrangements of pastel-toned snapdragons, and white gladioli appointed the altar and the chancel to form a background for the ceremony which was solemnized by the Rev. E. S. Hansen. Miss Shirley Magee, organist, played the wedding music and also accompanied the Rev. Mr. Hansen and Mrs. Hubert Simonson, the vocal soloists.

As their sister's attendants Miss Loetta Olsen, the maid of honor, and Miss Letha Olsen, the bridesmaid, wore alike waltz-length frocks of pale blue crystalettes over taffeta. Their frock-toned hair bandeaus were caught with rosettes and each carried a crescent basket of lace filled with red rosebuds and stephanotis. Patricia Fairchild, sister of the bridegroom, and Carol Christensen, wearing white choir robes, lighted the candles.

Donald Fairchild served his brother as best man, and the guests were seated by Lloyd Olsen of Courtland, Kan., brother of the bride.

White Alencon lace and tulle over satin fashioned the bridal gown. The long-sleeved lace bodice was designed with a lace-patterned yoke of tulle, and the lace was repeated in kerchief effect over the extremely bouffant skirt of tulle. A coronet of seed pearls held in place the double-tiered veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Mr. Fairchild and his bride, following a reception in the church parlors, left for a short ## honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Lincoln.

Mr. Fairchild is attending the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration.

WORKMAN-CARROLL

For the marriage of Miss Delouise Frances Workman, daughter of Mrs. Dolores Lucille Workman and Frank Monroe Workman, to Robert Lee Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Carroll of Ellsworth, Ia., on Sunday afternoon, June 3, lighted white candles and bouquets of white and pink gladioli appointed the chancel of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church. The 3 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Arthur Crisp, and Mrs. Henry Sengstake, organist, played the wedding music. As the 200 guests assembled, Mrs. Sengstake also accompanied Dan Brobst, the vocal soloist.

Attending her cousin as matron of honor was Mrs. Dave Printy of Belleville, Ill., and the maid of honor was Miss Maxine Alexander. Miss Jean Thorough was the junior bridesmaid. The attendants' identical frocks of silk faille taffeta shaded from petal pink to the deeper cameo tone. Small bows accented the back of the low, rounded necklines, and below the snug bodices, the skirts widened into waltz length. They carried arrangements of pink carnations. Lighting the candles were Miss Francine Workman, sister of the bride, and Miss Carol Wilsey of Keokuk, Ia., the bride's cousin, and the flower girl was Miss Vicky Ann Workman, niece of the bride.

Serving as best man was Howard Sisler, and the ushers were Gary Law of Denver, Dave Printy of Belleville, Ill., Harold Myrick of Topeka, Kan., uncle of the bridegroom, and Everett Thompson. Leonard Carroll of Omaha, the bridegroom's nephew, was the ringbearer.

White tulle and handclipped

Chantilly lace over satin fashioned the bride's period gown. The sculptured bodice of lace was designed with a portrait neckline bordered with circlets of seed pearls, and the brief sleeves were edged with scallops of the lace and accented by long lace mitts. The scallop motif was repeated on the full lace panels which alternated with tulle to form the wide skirt, and her waist-length veil of illusion was held to the head by a Victorian coronet of jeweled lace. She carried a crescent bouquet of white feathered carnations and pink roses.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church. For their honeymoon trip to Colorado, after which the couple will reside at 1447 Washington, Mrs. Carroll wore a sheath frock of turquoise silk with white accessories.

SYFERT-CAMPBELL

Lighted candles and greenery formed the chancel appointments at the College View Seventh Day Adventist Church where the marriage of Miss Marjorie Eileen Syfert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vernon Syfert, to Melvin Duane Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra J. Campbell, of Minneapolis, Minn., took place at 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening, June 3. The service was solemnized by Elder P. C. Jarnes, and Mrs. James Thompson, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Jean Shafer, the vocal soloist, and Don McPherson, the violin soloist.

Mrs. Wayne Page of Denver was the matron of honor and her frock was of turquoise blue crystalline. Miss Bonnie Syfert of Omaha, wearing yellow crystalline, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids, both in blue crystalline, were Mrs. Emory Gusso of Denver and Miss Jeanette Syfert. The identically styled frocks were designed with rounded necklines in fitted bodices, and wide pleated skirts in ballerina length. Their pillbox hats and mitts matched the shade of their costumes, and each carried a white fan ornamented with frock-toned carnations. The candles were lighted by Miss Roberta Syfert and Donald Syfert.

Robert Rentfro of Pueblo, Colo., served Mr. Campbell as best man, and the ushers were Leland Campbell, Donald Campbell and Floyd Campbell, all of Minneapolis; Carl Bauer, Edwin Owens, Jess Simons and Ronald Cornillon.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of ivory satin. The long-sleeved fitted bodice was fashioned with a deep yoke of illusion which created an off-shoulder effect that was accented with a drape of pleated tulle caught with satin rosettes. The soft folds of the wide skirt extended into a chapel train. Her veil of tulle was held to the head with a crown of tulle and lace and she carried a white Bible marked with pink roses.

After a reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Campbell and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to the Ozarks and upon their return they will reside at 4618 Prescott. For traveling Mrs.

Campbell wore a beige ensemble with white trim.

REILING-CRADICK

The marriage of Miss Janice Ann Reiling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reiling of Utica, to Larry Lee Cradick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cradick, also of Utica, took place at a 7 o'clock ceremony on Sunday evening, June 3, at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Utica. Miss Maxine Fuerniss, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocal soloists, Miss Mildred Knorr and Verdel Dahling. The lines of the service were read by the Rev. Dean Griesse.

Miss Marlene Reiling of Lincoln, her sister's maid of honor; and Miss Mary Lou Cradick, sister of the bridegroom, the bridesmaid, were frocked alike in pale blue crystalettes in daytime length. Their colonial bouquets were fashioned of blue and white summer blossoms. Miss Dorothy Reiling and Dennis Cradick lighted the candles.

Ivan Cradick of Bayard, Ia., served his cousin as best man, and the ushers were Bart Haemmer of Omaha, and Raymond Vrbka.

White Schiffli embroidered

tulle over satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown. The smooth, tulle-over-satin bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, traced with shirred tulle, and brief sleeves. The billowing skirt of embroidered tulle was given added bouffancy with insets of clear tulle. A half-hat held in place the tiered, waist-length veil of tulle, and she carried a bouquet of deep purple orchids.

Mr. Cradick and his bride, following a reception for 250 guests in the Utica auditorium, left for a brief honeymoon trip after which they will reside in Lincoln. For traveling Mrs. Cradick wore a blue and white linen frock with white accessories.

CALVERT-BEHRENS

At a 4:30 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, June 3, the marriage of Miss Katherine Calvert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Calvert of Pierce, to Robert Behrens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Behrens, also of Pierce, was solemnized at the Pierce Methodist Church. The service was read by the Rev. Mr. Schwabauer before a background of pink majestic daisies and white stock, lighted candles, in seven-branched candelabra, and greenery. Miss Janet Baldwin played the wedding music and accompanied the vocal soloists, Miss Nancy Tompkins and Gifford Tompkins.

Chiffon over taffeta fashioned the costumes of the attendants who were Miss Marian Calvert of Omaha, the maid of honor, who wore pale pink; and Miss Donna Behrens of Pierce, sister of the bridegroom, who was the bridesmaid and who appeared in the mint green shade. The frocks were identically styled with portrait necklines in brief-sleeved, elongated bodices, and bouffant skirts. Each completed her costume with a picture hat in frock tone, and each carried a basket filled with gladioli, pink for the maid of honor, and green for the bridesmaid. Mary Campbell and Janice Rolofson lighted the candles, and the ring bearer was Berry Gridley.

Leon Taylor of Pender served Mr. Behrens as best man, and the ushers included Russell Breitkreutz, Weeping Water; Ron Ricketts, Parks, Frank Harkness and Duane Rexroth, Humboldt.

The bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved, fitted bodice of lace was fashioned with a shoulder-wide neckline, and the voluminous skirt, banded with lace, was completed with a deep flounce that drifted into a circular train. A shell hat of lace, dotted with pearls, held to the head her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried an arrangement of pink cymbidium orchids on a white Bible.

After the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Behrens and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and upon their return they will reside at 5327 Cleveland, Lincoln. Mrs. Behrens traveled in a black shantung frock, touched with white, and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Behrens will return to Nebraska Wesleyan University where both will be seniors in the fall. The bride is a member of Willard sorority, and Mr. Behrens is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Marriage Announced

Tito Putting On Risky 'Tight Wire' Show In Visiting Moscow

WEST WATCHES, WAITS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, in the view of U.S. officials, is playing a very dangerous game on his visit to Moscow.

In the State and Defense Departments and other government agencies, policy makers are following Tito's moves and awaiting the outcome of his talks before venturing any final conclusions on precisely what his present position as between East and West really is.

But the opinion of most experts within the government, as indicated in cautious private comment, is that Tito definitely does not want to break his highly profitable ties with the United States, Britain, France and other free countries even though he is clearly working for re-establishment of cordial relations with Moscow.

The problem of keeping these two more or less contradictory aims in balance is what makes his present diplomacy, in the view of authorities here, a dangerous game. They think it would be easy, in an unintended burst of enthusiasm, for a national leader to "get in too deep" with the policies and purposes of a great power which is courting his allegiance, even when he does not consciously intend to make commitments.

Tito quite possibly shocked Western public opinion with his statement on arrival in Moscow that Communist nations would "never again" be so badly split up as they were when the Stalinist regime forced him out of the international Communist organization in 1948.

Administration officials here said that the implications of this statement could easily be exaggerated. Tito was expected to adopt a very friendly line, they said, but this does not necessarily mean that he is really moving back into the Soviet camp. His private comments to Western diplomats in Belgrade in recent weeks were said to have stressed his intention to be quite friendly with the Soviet government but to avoid any break or lessening of friendship with the Western powers.

Officials here were watching

Tito's moves for definitive information on several major questions.

1. Would he enter a military alliance with the Soviet Union? The experts did not believe he would. They felt that having been badly burned in 1948 Tito would not again put himself in position to take orders from Moscow.

2. Would he accept political and economic dependence on Russia and its satellites? This is one of the most difficult questions he faces. It is understood here that he intends to make full use of Russian offers of loans and credit already made to him running to around 200 million dollars or more but that he does not intend to give the Russians an economic or political stranglehold on his country.

Help Russia

3. Will he help Russia or the West in the ideological struggle "for men's minds"? The tightening links between Tito and the Khrushchev-Bulgann regime are a real gain for the Russians. Tito was once a symbol of successful resistance to Stalinist tyranny. He has now become a symbol of the new regime's willingness to apologize humbly and recognize the value of another man—Tito's opinions. This is probably of enormous value to Soviet propagandists.

4. Will he remain friendly with and useful to the West? He has succeeded in preserving a neutral position in the cold war. He has worked for years to build that up. That would be useful to the West whenever Tito used it, if he did, to oppose some Soviet maneuver. His military power if operated quite independently of Soviet control could also continue to serve as an element of strength in any showdown with non-Soviet forces.

RUSS CROWD CHEERS TITO, KHRUSHCHEV

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito and Nikita S. Khrushchev were swamped by enthusiastic Russians Sunday night when they tried to take a quiet stroll down Gorki St. Moscow's main thoroughfare.

The leaders of the Yugoslav and Soviet Communist parties accompanied by Mrs. Tito and other members of a Yugoslav delegation got out of limousines about a block from the Kremlin and walked up the street under the green lime trees for some distance before turning to go back.

They attracted a crowd of at least 500 persons. They were happily pushed and jostled. And two of the world's most powerful men were forced to duck into an ice cream parlor for refuge.

Tobacco Use Up In U.S. For 1955

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tobacco consumption was on the rise again last year as the Treasury collected $1,596,000,000 from smokers.

That figure represented an increase of 33 million dollars in the sale of federal tobacco tax stamps compared with 1954.

The tax remains unchanged at eight cents per package on popular types.

There had been a steady decline since 1952 during the period when controversy arose as to whether an increase in the incidence of lung cancer could be traced to the use of tobacco.

Seniors Told To Transform, Not Conform

OMAHA (AP)—The University of Omaha's graduating seniors were told Sunday they cannot simply conform to the section of society in which they will live.

"You will most certainly transform that society," said the Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, president of Creighton University.

"The very fact you carry the hallmark of high-level education makes you inevitably a leader in human life," he said.

Father Reinert addressed the 285 candidates for degrees at the Baccalaureate service in the university stadium.

The University's 47th annual commencement exercises are scheduled for late Monday.

WEST WATCHES, WAITS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, in the view of U.S. officials, is playing a very dangerous game on his visit to Moscow.

In the State and Defense Departments and other government agencies, policy makers are following Tito's moves and awaiting the outcome of his talks before venturing any final conclusions on precisely what his present position is between East and West really is.

3. Will he help Russia or the West in the ideological struggle "for men's minds"? The tightening links between Tito and the Khrushchev-Bulgarian regime are a real gain for the Russians. Tito was once a symbol of successful resistance to Stalinist tyranny. He has now become a symbol of the new regime's willingness to apologize humbly and recognize the value of another man's—Tito's—opinions. This is probably of enormous value to Soviet propagandists.
4. Will he remain friendly with and useful to the West? He may succeed in preserving a "neutral" position in the cold war. He has worked for years to build that up. That would be useful to the West whenever Tito used it, if he did, to oppose some Soviet maneuver. His military power if operated quite independently of Soviet control could also continue to serve as an element of strength in any showdown with non-Soviet forces.

★ ★ ★ RUSS CROWD CHEERS TITO, KHRUSHCHEV

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito and Nikita S. Khrushchev were swamped by enthusiastic Russians Sunday night when they tried to take a quiet stroll down Gorki St., Moscow's main thoroughfare.

The leaders of the Yugoslav and Soviet Communist parties, accompanied by Mrs. Tito and other members of a Yugoslav delegation, got out of limousines about a block from the Kremlin and walked up the street under the green lime trees for some distance before turning to go back.

They attracted a crowd of at least 500 persons. They were happily pushed and jostled. And two of the world's most powerful men were forced to duck into an ice cream parlor for refuge.

Tobacco Use Up In U.S. For 1955

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tobacco consumption was on the rise again last year as the Treasury collected $1,596,000,000 from smokers.

That figure represented an increase of 53 million dollars in the sale of federal tobacco tax stamps compared with 1954.

The tax remains unchanged at eight cents per package on popular types.

There had been a steady decline since 1952 during the period when controversy arose as to whether an increase in the incidence of lung cancer could be traced to the use of tobacco.

War Camp Friends Are Reunited Here

A German immigrant, who spent five years with a Lincolnite in a concentration camp during the war, has arrived in Lincoln with his family to live at the home of his wartime friend.

Harry Wajnsan, his wife and two daughters, Gisi and Sieda, will live at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Feuerberg at 3645 So. 20th.

Feuerberg and Wajnsan were liberated in May, 1945 by Allied troops.

Wajnsan, an auto mechanic who is now working in Lincoln, is from Munich.

Seniors Told To Transform, Not Conform

OMAHA (AP)—The University of Omaha's graduating seniors were told Sunday they cannot simply conform to the section of society in which they will live.

"You will most certainly transform that society," said the Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, president of Creighton University.

"The very fact you carry the hallmark of high-level education makes you inevitably a leader in human life," he said.

Father Reinert addressed the 285 candidates for degrees at the Baccalaureate service in the university stadium.

The University's 47th annual commencement exercises are scheduled for late Monday.

Defendants Alter City Cases Pleas

Two defendants in city appeal cases have changed their pleas in Lancaster District Court.

Robert Uribe, 21, of 1530 No. 15th has pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving on July 22, 1955. He had appealed from Municipal Court where he was fined $100 and given a six-month suspension of his driver's license.

Arthur V. Chubbuck, 32, of 1245 Garber, has pleaded guilty to driving under a suspended license on Sept. 1, 1955. He had appealed his conviction in Municipal Court, which imposed a $50 fine and 20-day jail sentence.

District Judge Paul White deferred further proceedings pending pre-sentence investigations of the defendants.

Beatrice Group Set To Tackle Parking Problem

BEATRICE, Neb. — Members of the Retail Council of the Beatrice Chamber of Commerce will meet Tuesday morning to tackle the problem of off-street parking.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of members of the city planning commission following the announcement that Sixth Street will not be widened and parking will be prohibited on four blocks in the downtown area.

It was believed the parking situation would worsen when nearly 100 cars are forced off the street.

Bruins Net 16 Hits To Gain Win

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Socking 16 hits off three men in the ninth, the Des Moines Bruins spoiled the Chiefs' attempt to sweep the series by taking an 8-4 victory before 1,406 fans Sunday night.

It looked for a while that Lincoln might pull through by making hits count for runs, but the Bruins picked up five tallies in the final two frames to win the third game of the series.

The two teams resume warfare at Des Moines Monday night. Dewey Williams (2-4) will hurl for the Chiefs. Lincoln returns to Sherman Field Thursday night to open a 11-day home stand against Albuquerque.

Prior to the eighth inning Sunday night, the Chiefs had used five hits to build a 4-3 lead. Des Moines was somewhat frustrated by the fact that 11 hits had produced only three tallies.

But the Bruins changed the situation rapidly. A single and a double by Eddie Haas put runners on first and third in the Des Moines eighth before Bill Nordberg—who had relieved Andy Olsen in the fourth—turned loose a wild pitch to toss the game back into a tie.

A minute later the Bruins got their lead run as Haas scored when the Chiefs missed a double play by inches.

Des Moines got three more in the ninth, two off Nordberg and one off No. 3 reliever Myron Hoffman, via three singles and a pair of walks.

John Hricinac got his fourth win of the year—he hasn't lost—but

Ford Kayoed; Tigers Whip Yanks Twice

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit ran its winning streak to six by taking a doubleheader from the league-leading New York Yankees Sunday 6-3 and 7-4 in 10 innings, knocking out Whitey Ford for the first time this season in the first game.

Bill Tuttle, whose two-run single off reliever Tom Sturdivant climaxed a four-run spurt in the first game, singled to drive in Harvey Kuenn with the winning run in the 10th inning of the second game.

Kuenn opened the 10th with a double off Tom Morgan and moved to third on Earl Torgeson's sacrifice. After Al Kaline walked intentionally, Tuttle delivered a single to right, scoring Kuenn. The Tigers added two more on Frank House's sacrifice fly and Charley Maxwell's double.

A crowd of 40,911 saw a battle of home runs in the second game until the Tigers finally broke it up in extra innings. Yogi Berra's 13th hit in the sixth tied the score in the fifth after Detroit hopped on Larsen for the first in a walk-boone's double following a Ray Boone's double following a walk and single.

Charley Maxwell's 10th homer with a man on gave the Tigers the lead in the sixth only to have the Yanks come back with two in the seventh on Eddie Robinson's fourth homer, Berra's double and Larsen's single. A few minutes later Larsen was out at the plate, trying to score from second on Billy Martin's single when Maxwell made a fine play.

Giants Split Twin Bill With Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—The New York Giants squelched a ninth-inning Cincinnati Redlegs rally Sunday to ek out a 4-3 triumph in the second game of a doubleheader. The Reds hammered out a 7-3 victory in the opener.

Redleg center fielder Gus Bell, who belted a homer in the first inning, started the Redleg rally in the ninth with another four-base hit, his 11th of the season.

White Sox Tee Off, Get 29 Hits In Double Win

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Chicago White Sox exploded 29 base hits off a procession of six Baltimore chockers Sunday to smother the Orioles in both ends of a doubleheader 12-0 and 9-2, before a crowd of 25,312.

Righthander Dick Donovan coasted to his third victory of the season on a seven-hit shutout in the opener. Jim Wilson subbed his one-time Bird teammates on four safeties in the nightcap.

The twin victory enabled the White Sox to move into second place in the American League. Wilson's triumph was his third since being swapped by Baltimore 10 days ago and boosted his season record to 7-2.

Bob Nieman's fourth homer of the season with George Kell aboard in the fourth deprived Wilson of a shutout.

Dave Philley, the other Oriole acquired by Chicago in the six-player exchange May 21, got four singles in the first game—a total matched by catcher Sherman Lollar, who drove in three runs.

Donovan rapped two singles and a double to bring in a pair of tallies in that contest, while Jim Rivera contributed to the 17-hit Sox offensive against Erv Palica, John Schmitz and Harry Dorch in a double and his second homer of the year.

Fred Hatfield paced a 12-hit offensive in the second game, belting a pair of doubles and a single, while Nelson Fox, Larry Doby and Luis Aparicio each connected safely twice.

Des Moines Raps Chiefs, 8-4

Bruins Net 16 Hits To Gain Win

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Socking 16 hits off three Lincoln hurlers, the Des Moines Bruins spoiled the Chiefs' attempt to sweep the series by taking an 8-4 victory before 1,406 fans Sunday night.

It looked for a while that Lincoln might pull through by making hits count for runs, but the Bruins picked up five tallies in the final two frames to win the third game of the series.

The two teams resume warfare at Des Moines Monday night. Dewey Williams (2-4) will hurl for the Chiefs, Lincoln returns to Sherman Field Thursday night to open a 11-day home stand against Albuquerque.

Prior to the eighth inning Sunday night, the Chiefs had used five hits to build a 4-3 lead. Des Moines was somewhat frustrated by the fact that 11 hits had produced only three tallies.

But the Bruins changed the situation rapidly. A single and a double by Eddie Haas put runners on first and third in the Des Moines eighth before Bill Nordberg—who had relieved Andy Olsen in the fourth—turned loose a wild pitch to toss the game back into a tie.

A minute later the Bruins got their lead run as Haas scored when the Chiefs mislaid a double play by inches.

Des Moines got three more in the ninth, two off Nordberg and one off No. 3 reliever Myron Hoffman, via three singles and a pair of walks.

Ford Kayoed; Tigers Whip Yanks Twice

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit ran its winning streak to six by taking a doubleheader from the league-leading New York Yankees Sunday 6-3 and 7-4 in 10 innings, knocking out Whitey Ford for the first time this season in the first game.

Bill Tuttle, whose two-run single off reliever Tom Sturdivant climaxed a four-run spurt in the first game, singled to drive in Harvey Kuenn with the winning run in the 10th inning of the second game.

Kuenn opened the 10th with a double off Tom Morgan and moved to third on Earl Torgeson's sacrifice. After Al Kaline walked intentionally, Tuttle delivered a single to right, scoring Kuenn. The Tigers added two more on Frank House's sacrifice fly and Charley Maxwell's double.

A crowd of 40,911 saw a battle of home runs in the second game until the Tigers finally broke it up in extra innings. Yogi Berra's 13th with a man on tied the score in the fifth after Detroit hopped on Larsen for two in the first on Ray Boone's double following a walk and single.

Charley Maxwell's 10th homer with a man on gave the Tigers the lead in the sixth only to have the Yanks come back with two in the seventh on Eddie Robinson's fourth homer, Berra's double and Larsen's single. A few minutes later Larsen was out at the plate, trying to score from second on Billy Martin's single when Maxwell made a fine play.

Triple Champ Armstrong Out Of Danger

DETROIT (U) — The leader of the United Auto Workers Union says automation and harnessing of the atom "can create the kind of economic abundance out of which we can get higher living standards and at the same time a shorter work week and greater leisure."

And UAW President Walter P. Reuther adds that a shorter work week, increased layoff pay and higher pensions are going to be among aims of his million-member union when current contracts in the automobile, farm implement and aviation industries expire in 1958.

He said he was not satisfied with present layoff pay benefits. Reuther staked out these goals Sunday in a copyrighted interview with the Detroit Free Press. The interview, which covered many fields, including politics and unemployment, came as the UAW began a week-long celebration of its 20th anniversary.

Political Ambitions
Some foes of Reuther have accused him of aspiring to the presidency. However, Reuther told a team of three reporters:

"I have no political aspirations. I hope to continue to be re-elected president of the Auto Workers—it does not go beyond that."

On politics, he added: "I think the problem in America is that both political parties are so mixed up that neither one of them at the present time is giving the country the kind of leadership it needs—neither the executive Republican end of the government nor the Democratic congressional end."

No Party Loyalty
"I have no loyalty to the Democratic party. I've got loyalty to basic issues and basic values, and when a Republican supports those values he has my support."

"I believe the Democratic party can win in 1956 only if it provides the kind of platform and candidate that will take the essential motivations of the New Deal and Fair Deal and the human motivation that they gave expression to and project them into the future in terms of automation and atomic energy."

"You can't compete with Ike (President Eisenhower) in the middle of the road. He has a monopoly on that. ... he has a couple of ruts down the middle so deep that nobody will get out of them. Any attempt to compete with him in that portion of the road will fail miserably—as it should fail."

Reuther said automation and harnessing of the atom for peace-time uses "are going to make it possible very shortly to provide the people of this country with higher living standards."

Reuther urged creation of a permanent commission made up of government, industry and labor "to make a continuous study of the broad impact of automation so that they will know what's happening in the total economy."

Darrel Parker Starts Serving Life Sentence

By VIRGIL FALLOON

Darrel F. Parker has begun serving life sentence in the Nebraska Penitentiary for first-degree murder in the Dec. 14 strangulation death of his 22-year-old wife, Nancy. Deputy Warden John Greenholtz said Parker's regular work assignment at the prison would be made in about a week.

Lancaster District Judge John L. Polk pronounced sentence after overruling Saturday a motion for a new trial for the 24-year-old ex-city forester.

Parker was found guilty May 3 by a jury which fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

Defense Atty. Max Towle said the case would be appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Parker was seated with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parker of Henderson, Ia., during arguments on the new trial motion.

Crowd Cited
"I think the crowd was 75 to 80 per cent pro-prosecution," Towle said, and he added he thought spectator comments could be heard by the jury.

County Atty. Elmer Scheele said in his arguments objecting to a new trial that "I had the feeling it was the other way around" and "we were fighting an uphill battle all the way through."

Towle maintained it was "absolutely unfair in any situation, not particularly in this case" for the trial judge's official court reporter to testify for the prosecution.

Judge Polke's reporter, Audrey Wheeler, took Parker's written statement and testified for the state. She did not report the trial, but was replaced by another court reporter with agreement of counsel.

Compared To Attorney
But Scheele said there was nothing wrong for a county attorney appearing as a witness in a case as long as he didn't also participate as an attorney. "If it isn't wrong for a county attorney, how can it be wrong for a court reporter?" he asked.

Answering Towle's argument, Scheele said he did not use a stenographer from his office because he "wanted a disinterested person from outside law enforcement circles."

But Towle criticized Miss Wheeler's conduct during the trial and said her presence in the courtroom while the judge read his instructions to the jury and her correction of the judge's error was "the most unfair thing I've ever seen."

Scheele said Miss Wheeler was not seen by the jury because she was "seated behind an easel." She "leaned over backwards to be fair and impartial" during the trial and "her presence in the courtroom while the instructions were read was customary practice."

Said Not Customary
"It may be customary practice in this court (Judge Polke's), but of no other court I know," Towle contended, noting he had checked some others.

Defense Atty. Thomas McManus presented argument on a motion to strike a sentence in the prosecution's counter-showing to the new trial motion.

The sentence, contained in Scheele's affidavit, said "the defense throughout the course of the trial in many ways attempted to influence the jurors."

McManus said the accusation, if proved, constituted a criminal offense.

Not 'Criminal'
But Scheele told the court he thought the statement was substantiated by facts, but that he didn't refer to the type of "influence" contemplated in the criminal statutes.

He cited "side remarks" of defense attorneys objecting to the trial and questioning of a deputy sheriff not sworn to testify as examples of the "influence" he meant.

"There's no basis for a new trial," Scheele said. "If ever a defendant charged with a serious crime of this nature had a fair trial, Darrel Parker had one."

Motion Overruled
Judge Polk overruled the defense's motion to strike the "influence" statement from Scheele's affidavit.

The court also sustained a prosecution motion to strike a defense amendment to the new trial motion.

The court ruled the amendment contained new matter to that set forth in the original motion and was not filed within the time provided by law.

The amendment had included objections to testimony of O. P. A. Closser and charged prejudicial conduct in the cross-examination of Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl, a defense witness.

Lie Detector Argued
The defense also argued court error in the refusal to admit evidence the polygraph (lie detector) results obtained by Dr. Douglas M. Kelley, University of California criminologist and psychiatrist.

These polygraph tests were part of Dr. Kelley's medical, psychiatric and psychological examinations of Parker, McManus argued. "The polygraph is no different than any other medical instrument and the results should have been admitted."

Defense attorneys will appear in higher court proceedings relating to the Parker case, but for Scheele and his staff, their courtroom appearances ended with Saturday's proceedings in District Court.

The State Attorney General's office will represent the prosecution in any proceedings in the Nebraska Supreme Court, and in any possible defense appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

ADVERTISMENT
Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles
Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of protrusion (shrinkage) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Twining Visit, 'Open Skies' Are Linked

By Siasen

WASHINGTON (U) — Harold E. Stassen said Sunday Gen. Nathan F. Twining's forthcoming visit to Russia may be "the first small step that will ultimately lead" to Soviet acceptance of President Eisenhower's "open skies" arms inspection plan.

Stassen, who is Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament matters, said in a television interview (ABC College Press Conference) he approves Twining's plans to attend a Soviet Aviation Day celebration June 24. He described it as an "excellent development."

Acceptance of the Soviet invitation to the Air Force chief of staff was authorized last week by Eisenhower.

Open Up 'A Bit'
Stassen said he would expect Twining and Russian military leaders to "open up to each other just a bit," increasing mutual confidence and paving the way for more important developments later.

"Any opening up reciprocally ... will benefit both sides," he said.

Stassen stated a belief that such a talk could have a direct bearing in the long run on the problems of working out a practical disarmament system.

Eisenhower proposed at last July's Geneva summit conference that mutual aerial inspection of each other's territory could be a first step toward U. S.-Russian agreement on disarmament.

Yoder Ending 18 Years Of State Service

Blain Yoder, 67, former state purchasing agent, Sunday announced his retirement from public service, effective July 1.

Since last September he had been assistant director of the records and audits division of the Department of Roads and Irrigation.

Yoder, a state employe for 13 years, served 16 years as state purchasing agent. He held the post during the administration of the late Gov. Arthur J. Weaver and was appointed to the office again by the late Gov. Dwight Griswold.

He is a charter member of the National Assn. of State Purchasing Officials and was elected president in 1952.

Yoder said he plans to return to Falls City sometime in July and "I'm looking forward to a little rest." Yoder formerly lived in Falls City.

"I have enjoyed by close association with the many fine people in Nebraska and the officials in the state capitol building," he commented. "Nebraska citizens have a right to be proud of the public servants they have chosen, and I am proud to have been able to serve with them."

Separate Vital From Mediocre Says Forrest

"If education does anything for people, it should train them to distinguish between the vital and the unimportant," Chancellor A. Leland Forrest told Nebraska Wesleyan seniors at annual baccalaureate services Sunday at First Methodist Church.

Dr. Forrest delivered the traditional sermon to 111 seniors, faculty members and the regular First Church congregation, who remained for the special services following the regular church hour.

"Too often we have objective evidence that what goes by the name of college education does not do this," Dr. Forrest said. "To be sure, fun and frolic should be a part of the undergraduate experience. However, we need to shun the pose of the perennial sophomore."

Dr. Forrest suggested "... what to me are some of the vital pillars of the Christian faith."

"First," he said, "a vital Christian faith must be consistent and reasonable ... such a faith is intellectual, for it insists that one not live on negatives, but it forces him to accept that which makes life most meaningful. Secondly, a Christian faith that is vital must have warmth and feeling."

A traditional academic procession through the campus to the nearby church preceded the baccalaureate service. Dean Sam Dahl and Dr. John Rosentrater of the Wesleyan staff also participated in the services.

Seniors, their parents and friends, were guests of the Forrests at a traditional Chancellor's Open House Sunday afternoon.

Belmont Center Spirit Is Lauded

Dr. C. B. Schultz, director of the Nebraska State Museum and president of the Belmont Agency board of directors, speaking at the Sunday dedication of the new $45,000 Belmont Community Center, lauded the "co-operative spirit" of all Lincolinites in the building program.

"Not only those of the Belmont community, but people from the entire city, donated building materials, money and labor toward the successful completion of the building," he said.

The Belmont Community Center at 3335 No. 12th has a gymnasium, auditorium, kitchen, woodworking shop, handicraft and game room and office. The center's recreational and character building program is adapted to pre-school children, youths and adults.

Kucera's Mother Dies; Ill Bishop Can't Attend Rites

Mrs. John W. Kucera, mother of the Most Rev. Louis B. Kucera, Catholic bishop of Lincoln, died Sunday at LeCenter, Minn., where she lived with another son. She was 92.

The funeral will be held in Montgomery, Minn., Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Bishop Kucera, who has been a patient in St. Elizabeth's Hospital following a heart attack a month ago, was unable to attend the funeral. He was to have been released from the hospital Sunday, until word of his mother's death caused his physician to keep him hospitalized.

Catholic officials said four diocesan priests, all natives of Minnesota, will attend the funeral.

A Solemn Mass of Requiem will be sung for Mrs. Kucera in the St. Elizabeth's Hospital chapel Tuesday at 9 a.m. by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas M. Kealy assisted by other Lincoln clergy. A priest's choir will sing.

The bishop's father died in 1941 at the age of 83.

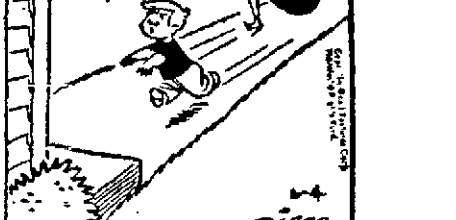

Mr. and Mrs. Kucera had nine children, one of whom, Sister Cecile, died in 1925. In addition to Bishop Kucera, the other children are: The Rev. Stephen Kucera of Ft. Atkinson, Ia.; Sister Mary Herman, head of the music department in the mother-house of the Benedictine Sisters, Bismarck, N.D.; Sister Bozema, also a Benedictine, teaching in St. Mary's School, Bismarck; Dr. Stanley T. Kucera, Northfield, Minn.; Andrew Kucera, LeCenter, Minn.; Adolph Kucera, Montgomery, Minn.; and Edward Kucera, Lonsdale, Minn.

REUTHER SEES 'ABUNDANCE' IN AUTOMATION, A-POWER

DETROIT (AP) — The leader of the United Auto Workers Union says automation and harnessing of the atom "can create the kind of economic abundance out of which we can get higher living standards and at the same time a shorter work week and greater leisure."

And UAW President Walter P. Reuther adds that a shorter work week, increased layoff pay and higher pensions are going to be among aims of his million-member union when current contracts in the automobile, farm implement and aviation industries expire in 1958.

He said he was not satisfied with present layoff pay benefits.

Reuther stated that these goals Sunday in a copyrighted interview with the Detroit Free Press. The interview, which covered many fields, including politics and unemployment, came as the UAW began a week-long celebration of its 20th anniversary.

Political Ambitions

Some foes of Reuther have accused him of aspiring to the presidency. However, Reuther told a team of three reporters:

"I have no political aspirations. I hope to continue to be re-elected president of the Auto Workers—it does not go beyond that."

On politics, he added:

"I think the problem in America is that both political parties are so mixed up that neither one of them at the present time is giving the country the kind of leadership it needs—neither the executive Republican end of the government nor the Democratic congressional end."

No Party Loyalty

"I have no loyalty to the Democratic party. I've got loyalty to basic issues and basic values, and when a Republican supports those values he has my support."

"I believe the Democratic party can win in 1956 only if it provides the kind of platform and candidate that will take the essential motivations of the New Deal and Fair Deal and the human motivation that they gave expression to and project them into the future in terms of automation and atomic energy."

"You can't compete with Ike (President Eisenhower) in the middle of the hour. He has a monopoly on that. . . . he has a couple of ruts down the middle so deep that nobody will get him out. Any attempt to compete with him in that portion of the road will fail miserably—as it should fail."

Reuther said automation and harnessing the atom for peacetime uses "are going to make it possible very shortly to provide the people of this country with higher living standards."

Reuther urged creation of a permanent commission made up of government, industry and labor "to make a continuous study of the broad impact of automation so that they will know what's happening in the total economy."

Lost Anything? NU May Have It

Mrs. Ann Azari is pictured above sorting the hundreds of items which have been turned in to the University of Nebraska.

Only Half Of Lost Keys, Glasses, Baby Bonnets Claimed At NU

Missing a left-hand glove? Baby bonnet? Bean shooter?

Chances are that if you have been on the University of Nebraska campus within the last year your lost article is residing safely in the University Lost and Found office.

Mrs. Ann Azari, office supervisor, reports that less than 50 percent of the items turned in are never claimed.

are an extension for a laundry hose, two bean shooters and a book published in 1899 on "How To Judge a Picture."

She has boxes of jackets, scarves and gloves, the latter mostly for the left hand. She also has a box filled with more than 20 pairs of glasses and boxes of car keys, shirts and baby bonnets.

Mrs. Azari sends the clothing to charitable organizations in Lincoln. All items are disposed of at the end of the school year.

Many people don't seem very anxious to claim their belongings, particularly textbooks, Mrs. Azari said. She explained that when students come in looking for a book they often say they lost it a month earlier, but they didn't miss it until they started studying for an exam.

Lehr Girl Injured In Fall From Tree

Ten-year-old Virginia Lehr of 1956 Prospect suffered undetermined back injuries when she fell 15 feet from a tree in a neighbor's yard Sunday evening.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, treated, and hospitalized overnight for observation. She was reported in good condition. Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lehr.

Twining Visit, 'Open Skies' Are Linked

... By Stassen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen said Sunday Gen. Nathan F. Twining's forthcoming visit to Russia may be "the first small step that will ultimately lead" to Soviet acceptance of President Eisenhower's "open skies" arms inspection plan.

Stassen, who is Eisenhower's special assistant for disarmament matters, said in a television interview (ABC College Press Conference) he approves Twining's plans to attend a Soviet Aviation Day celebration June 24. He described it as an "excellent development."

Acceptance of the Soviet invitation to the Air Force chief of staff was authorized last week by Eisenhower.

Open Up 'A Bit' Stassen said he would expect Twining and Russian military leaders to "open up to each other just a bit," increasing mutual confidence and paving the way for more important developments later.

"Any opening up reciprocally . . . will benefit both sides," he said.

Stassen stated a belief that such a talk could have a direct bearing in the long run on the problems of working out a practical disarmament system.

Eisenhower proposed at last July's Geneva summit conference that mutual aerial inspection of each other's territory could be a first step toward U. S.-Russian agreement on disarmament.

Yoder Ending 18 Years Of State Service

Blain Yoder, 67, former state purchasing agent, Sunday announced his retirement from public service, effective July 1.

Since last September he had been assistant director of the records and audits division of the Department of Roads and Irrigation.

Yoder, a state employee for 13 years, served 16 years as state purchasing agent.

He held the post during the administration of the late Gov. Arthur J. Weaver and was appointed to the office again by the late Gov. Dwight Griswold.

He is a charter member of the National Assn. of State Purchasing Officials and was elected president in 1952.

Yoder said he plans to return to Falls City sometime in July and "I'm looking forward to a little rest." Yoder formerly lived in Falls City.

"I have enjoyed by close association with the many fine people in Nebraska and the officials in the state capital building," he commented. "Nebraska citizens have a right to be proud of the public servants they have chosen, and I am proud to have been able to serve with them."

Separate Vital From Mediocre Says Forrest

"If education does anything for people, it should train them to distinguish between the vital and the unimportant," Chancellor A. Leland Forrest told Nebraska Wesleyan seniors at annual baccalaureate services Sunday at First Methodist Church.

Dr. Forrest delivered the traditional sermon to 111 seniors, faculty members and the regular First Church congregation, who remained for the special services following the regular church hour.

"Too often we have objective evidence that what goes by the name of college education does not do this," Dr. Forrest said. "To be sure, fun and frolic should be a part of the undergraduate experience. However, we need to shun the pose of the perennial sophomores."

Dr. Forrest suggested "... what to me are some of the vital pillars of the Christian faith."

"First," he said, "a vital Christian faith must be consistent and reasonable . . . such a faith is intellectual, for it insists that one not live on negatives, but it forces him to accept that which makes life most meaningful. Secondly, a Christian faith that is vital must have warmth and feeling."

A traditional academic procession through the campus to the nearby church preceded the baccalaureate service. Dean Sam Dahl and Dr. John Rosentrater of the Wesleyan staff also participated in the services.

Seniors, their parents and friends, were guests of the Forrests at a traditional Chancellor's Open House Sunday afternoon.

Belmont Center Spirit Is Lauded

Dr. C. B. Schultz, director of the Nebraska State Museum and president of the Belmont Agency board of directors, speaking at the Sunday dedication of the new $45,000 Belmont Community Center, lauded the "co-operative spirit" of all Lincolinites in the building program.

"Not only those of the Belmont community, but people from the entire city, donated building materials, money and labor toward the successful completion of the building," he said.

The Belmont Community Center at 3335 N. 12th has a gymnasium, auditorium, kitchen, woodworking shop, handicraft and game room and office. The Center's recreational and character building program is adapted to pre-school children, youths and adults.

Kucera's Mother Dies; Ill Bishop Can't Attend Rites

Mrs. John W. Kucera, mother of the Most Rev. Louis B. Kucera, Catholic bishop of Lincoln, died Sunday at LeCenter, Minn., where she lived with another son. She was 92.

The funeral will be held in Montgomery, Minn., Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Bishop Kucera, who has been a patient in St. Elizabeth's Hospital following a heart attack a month ago, was unable to attend the funeral. He was to have been released from the hospital Sunday, until word of his mother's death caused his physician to keep him hospitalized.

Catholic officials said four diocesan priests, all natives of Minnesota, will attend the funeral.

A Solemn Mass of Requiem will be sung for Mrs. Kucera in the St. Elizabeth's Hospital chapel Tuesday at 9 a.m. by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas M. Kealy assisted by other Lincoln clergy. A priest's choir will sing.

The bishop's father died in 1941 at the age of 83.

Mr. and Mrs. Kucera had nine children, one of whom, Sister Cecilia, died in 1925. In addition to Bishop Kucera, the other children are: The Rev. Stephen Kucera of Ft. Atkinson, Ia.; Sister Mary Herman, head of the music department in the mother-house of the Benedictine Sisters, Bismarck, N.D.; Sister Bozena, also a Benedictine, teaching in St. Mary's School, Bismarck; Dr. Stanley T. Kucera, Northfield, Minn.; Andrew Kucera, LeCenter, Minn.; Adolph Kucera, Montgomery, Minn.; and Edward Kucera, Lonsdale, Minn.

Darrel Parker Starts Serving Life Sentence

By VIRGIL FALLOON

Star Staff Writer

Darrel F. Parker has begun serving a life sentence in the Nebraska Penitentiary for first-degree murder in the Dec. 14 strangulation death of his 22-year-old wife, Nancy. Deputy Warden John Greenholtz said Parker's regular work assignment at the prison would be made in about a week.

Lancaster District Judge John I. Polk pronounced sentence after overruling Saturday a motion for a new trial for the 24-year-old ex-city forester.

Parker was found guilty May 3 by a jury which fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.

Defense Atty. Max Towle said the case would be appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Parker was seated with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parker of Henderson, Ia., during arguments on the new trial motion.

Crowd Cited "I think the crowd was 75 to 80 per cent pro-prosecution," Towle said, and he added he thought spectator comments could be heard by the jury.

County Atty. Elmer Scheele said in his arguments objecting to a new trial that "I had the feeling it was the other way around" and "we were fighting an uphill battle all the way through."

Towle maintained it was "absolutely unfair in any situation, not particularly in this case" for the trial judge's official court reporter to testify for the prosecution.

Judge Polke's reporter, Audrey Wheeler, took Parker's written statement and testified for the state. She did not report the trial, but was replaced by another court reporter with agreement of counsel.

Compared To Attorney But Scheele said there was nothing wrong for a county attorney appearing as a witness in a case as long as he didn't also participate as an attorney. "If it isn't wrong for a county attorney, how can it be wrong for a court reporter?" he asked.

Answering Towle's argument, Scheele said he did not use a stenographer from his office because he "wanted a disinterested person from outside law enforcement circles."

But Towle criticized Miss Wheeler's conduct during the trial and said her presence in the courtroom while the judge read his instructions to the jury and her correction of the judge's error was "the most unfair thing I've ever seen."

Scheele said Miss Wheeler had not been seen by the jury because she was "seated behind an easel." She "leaned over backwards to be fair and impartial" during the trial and "her presence in the courtroom while the instructions were read was customary practice."

Said Not Customary "It may be customary practice in this court (Judge Polk's), but of no other court I know," Towle contended, noting he had checked some others.

Defense Atty. Thomas McManus presented argument on a motion to strike a sentence in the prosecution's counter-showing to the new trial motion.

The sentence, contained in Scheele's affidavit, said "the defense throughout the course of the trial in many ways attempted to influence the jurors."

McManus said the accusation, if proved, constituted a criminal offense.

Not 'Criminal' But Scheele told the court he thought the statement was substantiated by facts, but that he didn't refer to the type of "influence" contemplated in the criminal statutes.

He cited "side remarks" of defense attorneys during the trial and questioning of a deputy sheriff not sworn to testify as examples of the "influence" he meant.

"There's no basis for a new trial," Scheele said. "If ever a defendant charged with a serious crime of this nature had a fair trial, Darrel Parker had one."

Motion Overruled Judge Polk overruled the defense's motion to strike the "influence" statement from Scheele's affidavit.

The court also sustained a prosecution motion to strike a defense amendment to the new trial motion.

The court ruled the amendment contained new matter to that set forth in the original motion and was not filed within the time provided by law.

The amendment had included objections to testimony of Opa L. Closer and charged prejudicial conduct in the cross-examination of Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl, a defense witness.

Lie Detector Argued The defense also argued court error in the refusal to admit in evidence the polygraph (lie detector) results obtained by Dr. Douglas M. Kelley, University of California criminologist and psychiatrist.

These polygraph tests were part of Dr. Kelley's medical, psychiatric and psychological examinations of Parker, McManus argued. "The polygraph is no different than any other medical instrument and the results should have been admitted."

Defense attorneys will appear in higher court proceedings relating to the Parker case, but for Scheele and his staff, their courtroom appearances ended with Saturday's proceedings in District Court.

The State Attorney General's office will represent the prosecution in any proceedings in the Nebraska Supreme Court, and in any possible defense appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer

Harriman is the first candidate to go to Reno for a divorce from an endorsement.

Back in 1954 Averell said, 'I like Adlai' in a loud, clear voice print.

But out in Reno in 1956 Averell said his romance with Adlai has cooled off like an egg in a salad.

A man can change his mind often in two years. And all ways for a size smaller.

Reverse Action

OKLAHOMA CITY (U) — Mead Miller, senior Oklahoma County excise board member has been receiving complaints from a friend for weeks that his taxes were too high. Finally, Miller sent out ap-raisers to check the friend's prop-erty. He reported back to the friend, "You're paying less than the regular valuation. We'll have to raise your taxes."

NEW YORK (U) — Every year some 50,000 persons are on ex-change between United States and foreign colleges, universities and research organizations. Last year, says the Institute of International Education, about three fourths of these were foreigners coming to the United States.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the figure and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
